BRUENING CALLS UPON REICHSTAG TO UPHOLD HIS FINANCIAL PLAN

German Chancellor Outlining Program Insists Measures Adopted Under Dictatorial Provision Shall Not Be Repealed.

DECLARES ALLIES IGNORE PLEDGES

Speech Delivered in Face of Frequent Communist Interruptions—Heavy Police Guard on Duty During Session.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Oct. 16.—Amid a turmoil of Communist interruptions and occasional howls of derision from the Fascists, Chancellor Brüning today appealed to the German people through the Reichstag, to buck up, swallow the bitter medicine of retrenchment, put their shoulders to the wheel and get on with the hard but necessary work of national reconstruction.

"The present crisis demands that all moral strength and courage be brought to bear on the task of national reconstruction," he declared as he outlined the cabinet's program of financial reform before the Reichstag and asked for its clear and unequivocal support.

Discussing the Young plan the Chancellor said economic conditions in Germany and the world were becoming more and more difficult by the month.

"The authors of the Young plan clearly realize that Germany's ability to pay reparations depends on the extension of world trade and stability of international finance."

Settlements Bank.

"The Bank of International Settlements is charged with the opening up of new fields for exports, thereby contributing to the solution of Germany's special problems."

Unfortunately, these ideas have found no echo in previous developments.

"Upon the setting of our own house in order depends whether, as a result of the crisis we can make those measures which, according to treaty, Germany has at her disposal to ward off danger to our national economy and exchange."

Emphasizing that Germany's foreign policy would be pacific and that one of its aims was to secure peace, Brüning nevertheless made it plain that the Reich did not believe that the former allies' nations had done their part to rebuild a peaceful world.

St. Altes Are Enemies.

"What has most deeply wounded our people and particularly our German youth," he said, "is the fact that, after the severe disillusionment over the non-fulfillment of the 14 points of President Wilson, not even the Versailles treaty has been fulfilled by the other side in those of its provisions favorable to us."

"The word that was pledged us: 'The compulsory disarmament of Germany would be followed by the voluntary disarmament of the others so far not been brought to realization.'"

He charged that many of the nations were continuing to increase their armaments, calmly ignoring treaties and endangering the security and peace of the world.

"That is an unbearable situation," he said.

The Chancellor pledged that Germany's defensive forces would be developed to the limit permitted by the Treaty of Versailles but would not be dragged into politics.

Despite the greatest economy, the Chancellor said, there will be a deficit this year from $50,000,000 to $60,000,000 marks (between $12,500,000 and $15,000,000) consequently a loan will be necessary which can be obtained under satisfactory conditions.

Turning to the departure of capital from Germany, the Chancellor explained: "The money market, which up to the elections had been unusually liquid, has since changed completely. Foreign credits have been withdrawn. Numerous German banks are lacking in patriotic spirit and have withdrawn."

Only Basis of Foreign Loan.

He emphasized that the foreign loan was dependent absolutely on the passage of laws safeguarding the repayment. All sections of the people must make sacrifices and be apportioned to Government employees especially to do their part.

He promised that the unemployed would be cared for and that the farmers whose economic condition was so bad would be helped.

SNOW IN ROCKY MOUNTAINS, 12 ABOVE AT JUDITH, MONT.

Seven-Inch Fall at Bozeman—Near Blizzard in Wyoming Delays Air Mail—Wheat Threshing Halted.

By the Associated Press.

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 16.—Snow ranging in depth from a trace to seven inches was general in the Northern Rocky and Cascade Mountain regions today. Storms yesterday and last night, extending from Montana into the northern part of Colorado, left a white blanket and descending temperatures. A trace of snow fell in Denver near midnight.

Seven inches of snow was reported in the vicinity of Bozeman, Mont. Temperatures ranging from 12 above at Judith, Mont., to 16 above at Helena left a heavy ice coating.

Farmers face the loss of considerable unharvested crops. Wheat in the Judith basin country cannot be threshed because of the sudden change in weather. In Wyoming, particularly in the southern part, had a heavy fall of snow, the storm nearing proportions of a blizzard at Laramie.

CHICAGO MAYOR TO RUN AGAIN

Fires Appointees Who Declared Support of Another Candidate.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—That Mayor William Hale Thompson is out for a fourth term was accepted by political leaders as certain yesterday after he had dismissed John A. Pelka, Commissioner of Compensation, for supporting another candidate.

The Mayor wrote Pelka: "It is customary for Cabinet officers in taking a position against the Mayor, by whom they are appointed, to either consult him or resign. You have not consulted me, and I would like your resignation."

Pelka had announced his support of Charles V. Barrett, member of the Board of Tax Review. He resigned at once.

KERENS HERE SAYS $1,900,000 WON'T HALT HIS TRAVELS

Declares He Acquired Love of Moving About From Father, Late Ambassador, and Will Continue to Roam.

By the Associated Press.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 16.—One of the worst fall blizzards in years, sweeping westward across the prairies, threatens to delay already belated movement of Northern Saskatchewan wheat toward railroads delivering to the head of the lakes.

Hundreds of thousands of bushels of wheat must remain in the bins until the effects of yesterday's first blow of the winter disappear. Roads are under a foot of snow and it is highly improbable that farmers can make deliveries for days. Vast amounts of grain in Northern Alberta also are tied up and temperatures have dropped below freezing.

Whatever Vincent Kerens may do when he gets full possession of his $1,900,000 inheritance, he does not intend to "settle down," in the sense of ceasing to roam about the world. His father, Richard C. Kerens, who was ambassador to Austria-Hungary, taught him not to stick to one place too closely, Kerens said today.

He is stopping in St. Louis on a motor journey from Chicago to the Southwest. After a stop at his country place near Dallas, he intends to go to California, and across the Mexican border to Ensenada, in Lower California, where he will attend the opening of Jack Dempsey's new hunting and fishing ranch two weeks hence. He said Dempsey was one of his best friends.

Kerens, stopping at the Mark Twain Hotel with his wife and two adopted children, told for the first time of some of his post-war adventures, including a year in Siberia with the inter-allied expeditionary force which fought the Bolsheviks for control of Russia's Pacific ports. He was sent to Siberia with a British military mission in which he enlisted after leaving the American aviation service, following the armistice.

Strange Jumble at Vladivostok.

"They sent us from England to Canada, across Canada and from Vancouver to Japan in something like record time," Kerens said. "We had little idea what we were getting into, and we found at Vladivostok a strange jumble of fighting units. The British were from a dozen or more of the allied countries, with a Japanese General as ranking commander. The Czechs were the real force, and they clashed with the Japanese, until there was a fight in the streets between them with machine guns and a lot of casualties."

"Although we were supposed to be there to protect supplies and terminals at Vladivostok, we were used for general military campaign that covered that part of Siberia. Some of our party-country trips took us as far as 500 miles from Vladivostok."

"Soon there were complaints of atrocities committed against our interallied forces, and our mission probably were true. It got to be a warfare in which not many prisoners were taken by either side."

Stranded in Yokohama.

"After getting a discharge from the British service I went to Japan and was stranded in Yokohama, as money that was sent me from this country failed to reach me. I went into a building where I saw the American flag, and it proved to be an institution for Jewish refugees from Russia, so far as immigration restrictions would let them, and Mexico. A large fund had been raised in New York for them, and they were sheltered."

"I stayed with those people five months, teaching the English language and the principles of American citizenship to a big class of adults and youths. I still hear from some of my pupils, who are Americans now."

"I shipped from Yokohama on an American tramp steamer, as an able-bodied seaman. The ship was the West Georgia, and we had most of the adventures of sea life on that cruise. About all we did have was a hanging at the yard-arm. We had one full-sized mutiny, and we were lost in the Aleutian Islands. I was everything except captain and cook on that cruise, and ended up as steward."

"Those were adventures I wouldn't care to repeat, but I don't expect to get over the love for roving, which my father taught me. He used to take me with him on short

BATTLE IN BRAZIL FOR RAILROAD LINE TO SAO PAULO CITY

Heavy Fighting North of Castro, State of Parana—
Some Gains by Government Troops Reported.

INSURGENTS CLAIM ADVANCE ON BAHIA

Say Leader of Northern Army Has Crossed Loyal
State of Sergipe—Federal Submarine Patrols Coast.

By the Associated Press.

MONTVIDEO, Uruguay, Oct. 15.—Heavy fighting, it appears here, is taking place north of Castro, State of Parana, between the Southern Brazilian revolutionary army and Federal forces defending the rich State of Sao Paulo.

Though Castro, northward to Itarare, Itangua, and on to Sao Paulo City there runs a railroad, possession of which, observers say, may mark victory or defeat for the insurgents in the Southern campaign. An intensive effort is being made to gain this control.

The battle thus far has been a series of engagements, rather than one big fight. So biased have been sources of information and so remote the points of fighting that it is impossible to say who is victor thus far, but reports, while creditable some Federal gains, at least indicate a tenacious rebel control.

Defeat of Police Reported.
An unofficial revolutionary bulletin says the vanguard of the rebel army met and defeated a force of 1000 Sao Paulo police at Itangua, Sao Paulo, capturing 14 prisoners and considerable supplies. Itangua is about 20 miles in Sao Paulo from Itarare, border point, which is near Singues bridge, scene of a Federal victory Tuesday.

The troops defending Itangua fled after a bitter contest, the revolutionary bulletin says. There is no explanation as to whether there was a general rebel advance into Sao Paulo through Singues, Itarare and Itangua, which would mean a detachment turned the Federal wing and cut off such Federal forces as were last reported at Singues and Itarare.

At Santa Ana do Livramento, across the Uruguayan border from Rivera, the rebel newspaper O R publicano publishes a story that the rebels' position was excellent and advantageous for victory although they had suffered great losses. Later messages to the newspaper say the Sao Paulistas defeated the rebels, who had 400 casualties, dead and wounded.

Nothing New, Says Rio.
In Rio de Janeiro an official communiqué of the Minister of Justice says there is nothing new of importance in the campaign against the rebels. Mention is made of occupation of Passa Quatro and Soledade, Minas Geraes, and the communiqué adds that the submarine Humayra has left the capital city to patrol the coast.

Revolutionary headquarters announce that Capt. Juarez Tavora, leader of the northern revolutionary army, has crossed the loyal State of Sergipe from Alagoas and is advancing on the city of Bahia, or Sao Salvador, capital of the loyal State of Bahia.

A message from Gen. Miguel Costa, commanding the rebel vanguard, to Porto Alegre, says 23 enemy wounded and 150 prisoners, among them four officers, are being transported to points behind the Parana lines for safekeeping.

SLAIN BY SHOTS FROM AUTO

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 15.—Morris (Mushy) Friedman, suspected rebel runner, collapsed in a gutter today with four bullets in his body when gunmen opened fire upon him from an automobile and fled. He was dead when an ambulance arrived.

WATCHMAN ADMITS PLOTING ARSON BUT DENIES SETTING FIRE

set the hotel afire. They asked who did, and I said I didn't know. They said they couldn't take that for an answer, that I did know. "I asked about my family, and was told they had been taken to the matron's room. I said, 'I wouldn't have my daughter in the hands of the police for all the money in St. Louis. I'll say anything to get them released.' After this, I was told that my family was all right, and would be taken care of. Then I agreed to tell how it happened.

Told About Meeting Cotham.
"I told them about meeting Cotham in Forest Park, and how he told me that Balson and Pierson were going bankrupt, and wanted the hotel burned. I asked what there was in it for me, and Cotham said I would get $5000 and he would get $5000. I told him I wouldn't decide at once. We talked about it next day, but I didn't agree to the plan then.

Much Sought Bigamist at Play

GEORGE W. E. PERRY.

ACCUSED slayer of Mrs. Cora Belle Hackett of Chicago, whom he bigamously married, here shown at his camp at Eagle River, Wis., scene of the alleged murder. Scattered about the country are four other wives, one in Cleveland, O., being apparently the only legal one.

I was not getting my midnight lunch hour.
"When we met again, he handed me $100. I took the money, but did not promise anything. Later we talked about the plans, and Cotham said he would have the party come in through the tunnel from the main hotel, and go out the same way. After that I did not make the 3 a. m. round any more.

"The night of Dec. 5, 1927, I went over to the main Buckingham Hotel to take the clerk's report. Cotham was at the desk, and he said to come over after 2 o'clock. I went over between 2 and 3, leaving the night clerk of the Annex, O. P. Greathouse, lying on a couch.

"Everything is Over."
"Cotham said, 'Everything is over,' and motioned to me not to say anything, as there was a young man in the room. I went back to the Annex, and met Greathouse in the lobby. Later a telephone call came, saying that a guest had been burst out of the door. I went through the halls, calling the guests.

"I did not see Cotham at the Annex when I asked him after ward if he had been there, he said he was over, but that the smoke got so bad he went back."

Confession Read to Jury.
In his signed confession, which was admitted as evidence yesterday and was read to the jury, Meadows said as to the actual setting of the fire:

"About 2:30 a. m. I set some paper afire in a drawer in room 137, the maid's dressing room. Right in the corner was a chest of drawers, with paper in the bottom drawer. I just touched a match to this paper and went out."

In the signed confession, Meadows then told of having reported to Cotham, and having waited "10 or 15 minutes" after setting the fire. He said, as a witness for himself today, that this part of the confession was not true, but that the document was correct up to the part relating to the actual setting of the blaze.

Meadows testified as to having visited Greathouse, former night clerk of the Annex, after the fire, and told of his interviews with Edward T. McFarland, former manager of the main and Annex hotels. He said he went to see Greathouse and McFarland about getting work. In his signed confession, he told of getting various sums from Cotham, making about $700 in all, and said that one payment of $100 was made in the presence of Pierson, one of the owners, after Pierson had paid money to Cotham.

"McFarland told me that Balson and Pierson owed him $1500, for property lost in the fire," Meadows said. "He asked me if I had read the papers that they had collected $40,000 insurance. I had not. (No such item was printed.) He said we would get together, and the next day I met him at Balson's office, but McFarland said it was not the time to take the matter up, and we went away.

"When we went to McFarland's apartment, he asked me a lot of questions, which he had written down, but I didn't answer them, and told him I didn't know who had started the fire."

When cross-examined, Meadows admitted that he had not been mistreated by police, and said he was treated fine.

ammation, that a promise of leniency for his family was made to him if he would tell the desired complete story of the fire. He previously had said that the suggestion, connecting his confession with leniency for his family, came from him.

The prosecutor took Meadows over the signed confession, and got him to admit the truth of all its parts, except the description of touching the match to the papers in the drawer.

"You admit that you agreed for a consideration to omit one of your rounds?" he was asked, and he replied that he did admit it.

"You admit also that you discussed the places for starting the fire, and talking about the basement and the parlor before deciding that room 137 would be the best place?" Meadows assented.

"If you had actually started the fire," the Assistant Circuit Attorney asked, "would you have acted differently afterwards?" Meadows thought not.

Meadows admitted having received $700, and the prosecutor said, "You didn't get that for doing nothing, did you?"

"Got It By Laying Off."
"I got it by laying off," Meadows said, referring to the omitting of his early morning round. He said he had decided on eliminating the 3 a. m. round, because the receivers of the hotel had changed his schedule, removing his previous midnight lunch time.

"How did you know about the papers in the drawer in room 137?" the defendant was asked. "I just described what Cotham told me would happen," he said.

The confession was admitted as evidence after testimony had been given, in the jury's absence, yesterday afternoon, to the manner in which it was obtained. Chief of Police Gerk testified that, after the confession had been taken down by a stenographer, he introduced the stenographer to introduce certain mistakes and omissions, and that, when the typewritten copy was shown to Meadows, the mistakes and omissions were all corrected by Meadows. These corrections by Meadows, in the typed copy of the confession, were shown. Every sheet bore the signature "Andrew Beauford Meadows."

Assistant Circuit Attorney Joseph Lennon testified that Meadows, in conversation with him, told the chief facts related in the confession, except that Meadows would

What do you do when a sluggish system shows the bowels need help? The best thing yet discovered for this is still a little candy Cascarets. Take one tonight if liver and bowels aren't functioning as they ought. See how quickly unpleasant breath, coated tongue or a bilious, headachy condition is cleared up. No griping or discomfort from Cascarets. The quick, pleasant relief they always bring constipation sufferers is lasting. For Cascarets are made from cascara which doctors say actually strengthens bowel muscles. So you can take Cascarets as often as needed. 20 million boxes used yearly proves their merit.

FLYER CRASHES WHILE ESCORTING NAVAL PACT PLANE

Lieut. William W. Caldwell Thought to Have Been Killed in Blizzard Near Laramie, Wyo.

By the Associated Press.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 15.—Lieut. William W. Caldwell, army flyer, who was escorting an airplane carrying the document of Japan's ratification of the London naval treaty from Vancouver to New York, is thought to have been killed in a crash in a blizzard near Laramie yesterday.

Caldwell's Boeing pursuit plane was sighted at 5:15 a. m. today by Ray W. Meskimen, flying an east-bound mail plane, at Lookout, 26 miles north of Laramie. The air mail pilot reported his discovery on his arrival in Cheyenne, saying Caldwell had crashed.

Boeing Air Transport officers reported that Pilot George Boyd had sighted the body of Lieut. Caldwell in the plane and searchers left by automobile for the scene of the wreck to bring the body to Laramie. Boyd sent the message from Rock River. It said a body was visible from the air. The territory in which Caldwell fell is hazardous for landing. The ground is covered with sage brush and is rolling.

Lieut. Irvin E. Woodring, carrying the ratification of the treaty, took off from Cheyenne at 4:15 a. m. and was reported safely in and out of North Platte, Neb., at 7:05 a. m.

Lieut. Caldwell is of the Air Corps Reserve. His home is in Oakland, Cal.
The Boeing radio station here stated Caldwell was flying in "zero-zero" weather, meaning there was neither ceiling nor visibility, and that he could not see the ground when he crashed.

Flyer Carrying Treaty Leaves

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 15.—Carrying Japan's ratified copy of the London naval treaty, Lieut. I. E. Woodring arrived here by plane at 3:44 p. m. today and at once entered another plane piloted by Lieut. Umstead and took off for New York.

not admit to Lennon that he actually set the fire. It was shown that two business men, John S. Bresnan and Alvin Rubenstein, were present when the confession was read to Meadows and signed by him, and that other precautions were taken to avoid any later claim, on his part, that he was subjected to physical abuse.

The daughter, Leonora Maude Meadows, was the first witness for the defense at last night's session. She testified that she and her mother were taken to the Police Matron's room and held for most of one day.

Three Women Witnesses.
Three women who lived at the Annex at the time of the fire testified that they had seen Meadows about the hotel, that he performed his duties properly, and that they saw him helping guests to get out after the fire was discovered. These witnesses were Mrs. Rita B. Lunt, Mrs. F. J. Susanka and Mrs. Emma Kael. Mrs. Susanka was a sister-in-law of Miss Mary Susanka, one of those killed in the fire.

A witness today, before the defendant was called, was Peter Abell, night watchman of the main Buckingham Hotel. He testified to attempts of Meadows to help in getting guests out of the burning Annex. The state utilized the difference between a faithful watchman and one who betrayed his trust. Abell was questioned as to his feeling of responsibility, and answered that he considered it his duty to protect the guests of the hotel against the danger of fire and molestation.

PLANS 18-FOOT PARKWAY ON WIDENED GRAVOIS AV.

President Kinsey of Public Service Board Anticipates Abandoning of Street Car Tracks.
Anticipating that the Public Service Co. may abandon its tracks on Gravois avenue to save the cost of paving its share of the proposed 100-foot thoroughfare to be built next year from Twelfth street to Grand boulevard, President Kinsey of the Board of Public Service has made tentative plans for an 18-foot parkway in the center of the widened street.

Kinsey pointed out that by this plan the city could proceed with the construction of its part of the street without additional expense to taxpayers. In the event the Public Service Co. obtains permission to remove its tracks and substitute motor buses for street cars, an 18-foot parkway could be built. Later, if traffic increased, the parkway could be removed and the strip paved.

STILL NO TRACE OF BONDS STOLEN FROM GRAND BANK

Hundreds of Lists Sent All Over Country in Futile Effort To Trace Them.
Although almost four months have passed since the $100,000 burglary of the safe deposit vault of the Grand National Bank on May 25, the Police Department has found no trace of any of the missing securities.

Hundreds of lists of stocks and bonds have been distributed by the department's tracing bureau, copies being sent to local banks and brokers and to all of the larger police departments of the country. Recently the list was revised with the securities in alphabetical order for ready reference. However, no information has been received concerning any effort to sell any of the securities or cash any interest coupon.

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 15.
WE HAVE in this country a certain type of office-holders, fortunately not large, who are always out with square and compass seeking to find out what the political effect will be of every action they take. They do not need to make such elaborate investigations. Anyone with a little experience can tell them in advance that the effect of action based on such motives will always be bad. All the predominant political opinion of the nation which is worth cultivating is never impressed by decisions made for effect. Those who compose that body want responsible office holders to try to find out what is best for the welfare of the people and do that. They are moved by sincerity and integrity of purpose. Pretense does not appeal to them.

That is the reason why those who seek popularity so seldom find it, while those who follow an informed conscience so often are astonished by a wide public approval. The people know a sham even when they seem to be trying to fool themselves, and they cannot help having a wholesome respect for a reality. The best political effect usually comes to those who disregard it.

NYE HEARING WITNESS CUT DURING SCUFFLE

J. N. Cox, Telephone Company President, Tells of Incident in Nashville Hotel.

By the Associated Press.
NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 16.—James N. Cox, a telephone company executive, explained today that a stab wound he suffered last night on the eve of his appearance before the Senate campaign funds investigating committee here was inflicted during a scuffle with a "boisterous" friend. He emphasized that the incident had nothing to do with the committee's inquiry.

Cox said that, while he and several friends were in his hotel room last night, another man came in who was intoxicated and inclined to be "boisterous." In trying to quiet the man, there was a scuffle, in which he received a slight cut in the neck, Cox said. "The incident had nothing whatever to do with the Nye investigation."

Cox is president of the Gainesboro Telephone Co. and of a company formed by consolidation recently of eight telephone companies in Tennessee and Kentucky. Robert Orr III of Nashville, a county manager for Cordell Hull in Hull's successful race for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator from Tennessee, testified yesterday that he received $4000 for organization work either from Cox or Bradley McGinniss of Carthage, Tenn., a friend of Cox.

Representative Hall testified. Congressman Hull told the committee that his campaign expenditures did not exceed $10,000, the limit fixed by State law. Hull was the first witness when the committee opened its hearings into the Tennessee senatorial primary.

MISSING SECURITIES OF BOB FIRM TRACED

Traded for Less Valuable Holdings, in Promoter's Other Enterprises, It Is Said.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Discovery of evidence that a large part of the $5,000,000 in listed securities missing from the safe of Metal & Mining Shares, Inc., was transferred in exchange for less valuable holdings to other enterprises promoted by Charles V. Bob, chairman of the board of Metal & Mining Shares, Inc., was announced today by Assistant Attorney-General Washington.

Bob, who was chairman of the board of Metal & Mining Shares, Inc., has been sought for questioning about the affairs of the firm. Frederick C. Russell, an associate of Bob, has also been missing since the two left New York last week for Chicago.

David Schlitzler, an accountant employed by a firm that audited the company's books and listed its shares, testified, Washington said, that the firm's accounts as of June 30, 1930, were made up of a different assortment of stocks than those shown in an audit made six months earlier.

At the time of the June audit, Schlitzler said, the company had in its portfolio $3,999,900 in 6 percent debenture bonds of Metal & Mining Shares, Inc., and other of Bob's companies.

Representatives of the Attorney-General's Bureau of Securities have found part of the securities, which were thought to have disappeared Tuesday when the company's safe was opened and found to be empty, Washington said. Some were found in the vaults of the Chemical Bank & Trust Co., he said, and others in the safe of C. V. Bob & Co., which occupies part of the office of Metal & Mining Shares. The remaining securities, he said, are thought to be in various banks in the United States or in Europe, or pledged as collateral on loans.

Bob has been a well known figure in New York during the last few years. He was known as an "angel of aviation," a patron of prominent financiers, a patron of church and science. Comparatively little is publicly known of his early career.

Rumor has it that he was once an engineer in Guatemala and continued his work in the gold fields of Nevada. Tall and bluff, with broad shoulders and an engaging manner, Bob became the friend of prominent men, and was identified in the public mind with aviation.

know whether they're true, but that's the general talk."

William Betz, 2423 Klocke street, a foreman at the Majestic Manufacturing Co., said he read nothing of the case until the hearing started last week on the change of venue application.

"Would you carry a prejudice into the jury box with you?" he was asked. "Well," said Betz, "my charges would have to be proved to me."

"Guesses" Kied Is Still Mayor.

David Bostrom, an iron molder, 1027 Sells avenue, said he had read only the headlines of stories about the street lighting contract scandal, but declared he never had expressed or formed an opinion on the guilt or innocence of anyone mentioned in the stories nor had he heard anyone express an opinion on the case. Questioned about the extent of his newspaper reading, he said he read a St. Louis afternoon paper every evening. He said he "guessed" Henry Kiel was still Mayor of St. Louis and added that he did not believe what he read in the newspapers.

James Conley, a Public Service Co. road supervisor of 2122 Geyer avenue, said he had read thoroughly the newspaper stories on the case but declared he had formed no opinion and felt he could give the defendants a fair and impartial trial. He admitted, however, that while the case was the subject of news he had heard many express the opinion that the defendants were guilty of wrong.

Doesn't Know What Charge Is.

James Eckdahl, a junior mechanical engineer, 3515 Bingham avenue, testified he had read only the headlines of newspaper accounts. He could not remember, he said, which newspapers he had read, and asserted he had not formed any opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the defendants.

"Do you know what these men are charged with?" Cullen asked. "Well, something to do with the street lighting system," was the reply.

"But what is the charge, murder, arson, or what?" To this Eckdahl said, "I can't tell you. I didn't read anything about it. I wasn't interested."

Ray J. Herman, a draughtsman, 2522W. Sullivan avenue, also said he had no opinion and little information about the Ryckoff case. "I wondered what it was all about, and who this Ryckoff was," he said, "but all I read was just the headlines."

Herman also testified he did not know what the charge was against Ryckoff, Fritchard and Heath and said he had formed no opinion as to their guilt or innocence.

With more than a trace of heat, Cullen demanded: "Who have you talked to?" "Nobody," the witness replied.

"Who has talked to you?" "Nobody."

"You fellows over there in that jury room," said Cullen, "haven't you gotten together and discussed this case?" "No," said Herman, "we've talked, but not about this case."

Arthur C. Husemann, 2101 Barrett street, an auditor for the Franklin-American Co., said he had read several news stories about the lighting scandal and had discussed it with friends who said: "It looks like somebody did something." Someone else told him, Husemann said: "Possibly there are more in it than the people mentioned," and still another friend

GIRL'S STRANGLER

From Webb City Home.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 16.—Paul Kauffman, 31-year-old ex-convict, who confessed that he strangled Avis Woolery, 17, to death and buried her body in a shallow grave in Swape Park, was indicted by a county grand jury yesterday afternoon on a first degree murder charge. Two attorneys were appointed to represent him at a formal hearing. Although he had expressed a desire to plead guilty, a plea of not guilty was entered at his arraignment today because his attorneys desired more time to prepare their case. Kauffman was ordered to trial next Wednesday.

The former convict, held in jail under a two-year prison sentence for seduction of a 15-year-old girl following his arrest on her complaint the day after Miss Woolery disappeared, told of newspaper advertisements and correspondence with which he enticed the latter from her home. She came here with permission of her mother, Mrs. Ralph Corlins of Webb City, to care for a child Kauffman said he had at the home of his mother. The girl intended to attend high school one year as a prerequisite of a nurse's training course in which she planned to enroll.

Kauffman said his mother, Mrs. Harry G. Kauffman, lived at Columbia, Pa.

commented, "That's where the good tax money goes."

"If you believe the Post-Dispatch," Husemann testified, "you'd believe those men are guilty." He said some proof would be required to remove a prejudice against them from his mind.

Thom's Discrepancy Small.

Boris R. Norton, 4123 Magnolia avenue, a salesman for the American Bridge Co., a concern which sold the city some of the steel used in construction of the Fred Bridge, Southern approach, said: "I heard there was only a $150,000 discrepancy in an $8,000,000 contract and I thought that if these men had been accused, it was for a very small amount, considering the size of the contract."

Circuit Attorney Miller asked him if he knew the discrepancy was on contracts amounting to $1,200,000, and the witness replied that he did not. "The inference was that there was graft in the contract," he concluded, "but I don't know that I formed that idea. You can't always believe the newspaper."

Herman Orlick, a bank clerk, 1427 Missouri avenue, said it was his idea that persons more prominent than those accused were guilty and the accused men were really innocent.

Harry A. Reader, 5122 Delmar boulevard, foreman for a trucking company, said he had glanced over newspaper accounts of the case but had formed no opinion. He said a group of the veniremen used as witnesses for the State, talked about the case to the extent that they wondered why they were called as witnesses and what the Ryckoff case was about anyway.

Phillips Brothers, Oil Men, Patch Up Quarrel, ReunitedForm $316,000,000 Petroleum Corporation, Which Will Be World's Largest Independent Organization.

By the Associated Press.

TULSA, Ok., Oct. 16.—A quarrel of 15 years ago has been patched up, and three brothers whose names are eminent in the oil industry are reunited.

Consolidation of the Phillips Petroleum Co. and the Independent Oil & Gas Co., forming one of the world's largest independent oil organizations with assets in excess of $316,000,000, brought the Phillips triumvirate—Frank, L. E. and Waite—together again.

Back in 1915 when the three brothers were associated in the Phillips Petroleum Co., at Bartlesville, Ok., there was a disagreement one day.

Waite, the youngest brother who directed the land department, failed to get a lease which the other two thought would have been obtained. The quarrel led to the withdrawal of Waite from the company.

The youngest brother tried his hand at lease brokering and running a chain of filling stations for a time. Then came a stroke of good fortune and he started a spectacular climb to the heights of the oil business—alone. The start was his opening of a new oil field in Okmulgee County, Oklahoma, at about the time the United States entered the World War.

The field made Waite a fortune almost overnight. He sold out to the Barnhill Corporation for $25,000,000 cash. In 1922 he became head of the Independent Oil and Gas Co. of Tulsa after merging with it the Phillips Co., organized by him.

Meanwhile, the original Phillips Petroleum Co., with Frank as president and L. E. as executive vice president, had forged ahead and become a leading company of its kind.

One of its achievements was to develop into the world's largest manufacturer of natural gasoline. Shortly before the consolidation, the company began construction of a $18,000,000 gasoline pipeline—something new in pipeline transportation—from its Berger (Tex.) refinery to Kansas City and St. Louis.

Before entering the oil business, the three brothers were engaged in banking at Bartlesville, Ok. They had come to Oklahoma from Iowa. Banking still remains the "hobby" of L. E. Phillips, and the other two brothers retain wide banking interests.

$10,000 LIQUOR STOCK
SEIZED AT WAREHOUSEWhisky, Gin, Champagne Beer
—Two Arrested on Truck.

A stock of whisky, gin, champagne and Canadian beer, estimated by Deputy Prohibition Administrator Dillon to be worth more than $10,000, was seized last night and today in a raid on a two-story warehouse at a South Second street.

Prohibition agents, who forced an entrance under authority of a search warrant, found in the building 239 cases of beer, 46 gallons of Old Judge whisky in pint bottles and 10 gallons of Burnett's White Satin gin in quart.

In the hope of arresting the owners, Dillon placed a guard in the place. At 9 o'clock this morning a truck was driven into the alley and driver and helper were arrested.

Forty-three large packing cases in the truck were found to contain champagne and six small cases were found to contain whisky.

The driver identified himself as Peter J. Ward, 1614 Powers street, and the helper said he was George F. Osman, 613 St. Clair avenue, East St. Louis.

Both professed ignorance of the contents of the packing cases and of the identity of the persons by whom the truck had been hired. Ward said the truck was engaged early this morning by a man who himself drove it away from the Ward & Mack Transfer Co., of which Ward said he is owner, at 107 Wash street.

"He brought the truck back in about an hour," Ward said. "He paid me for its rental and told me to drive it to the alley where we were arrested. The cases were already on the truck. He didn't say what was in them and I don't know where he got them."

Osman said he was employed only periodically by Ward and declared he knew nothing about the shipment. As the truck drove into the alley two men entered the building by the front door and were arrested. They declared they were looking for jobs and went in when they saw the door open.

WOMAN DELEGATE
AT EMPIRE PARLEY

MRS. SHAH NAWAZ.

ONE of the two Indian women who are attending the Imperial and Indian Round Table conferences in London, England, is addition to her own official duties, she acts as secretary to her father, Sir Muhammad Shah, who also is a delegate.

She said her relations with McClelland had been professional only, and described him as "a charming gentleman and a good actor."

"I do not know Mrs. McClelland," she said. "Elmer McClelland is mistaken in naming me in his divorce action or the charge is an outrage on me. There is not the slightest foundation for any charge."

WOMAN HIT BY ROBBER
DIES OF HEART DISEASEDoctor Thinks Shock Induced Fatal Attack of Mrs. Henrietta Hussman.

The death of Mrs. Henrietta Hussman, 48 years old, yesterday at her home, 2302 Dickson street, four days after being beaten and kicked by a robber, was caused by heart disease, a coroner's autopsy has disclosed.

Mrs. Hussman was knocked down and kicked when she refused to give money to a robber who walked into her home Saturday evening. Suffering with severe bruise on the right thigh, she was put to bed on the advice of Dr. C. S. O'Connor, 1218A North Grand boulevard.

Dr. O'Connor, who had been treating Mrs. Hussman for hardening of the arteries, said he thought

ALICE BRADY DECLARES
DIVORCE CHARGE FALSEHer Leading Man Joins in Denial of His Wife's Allegations in Detroit.

By the Associated Press.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 16.—Alice Brady, actress, who is appearing here as the guest star of a stock company, said today there was no foundation for her being named co-respondent in the Detroit divorce suit filed by Mrs. Bernice McClelland, wife of Miss Brady's leading man.

Donald Cameron McClelland, the leading man, issued this statement:

"I think it a shame that anybody as fine as Miss Brady should be dragged all over the front page of the newspapers. My only connection with her has been a purely business one. As for taking trips, they were purely of a business nature. I might have left on any train, but it is natural for a company to travel together."

Mrs. McClelland charges that Miss Brady made trips with McClelland and entertained him at her New York home, and that he made the Brady home in New York his mailing address.

Miss Brady, daughter of William A. Brady, producer, ends her engagement here this week. McClelland came to the stock company a week after Miss Brady opened here Sept. 27.

She said her relations with McClelland had been professional only, and described him as "a charming gentleman and a good actor."

"I do not know Mrs. McClelland," she said. "Elmer McClelland is mistaken in naming me in his divorce action or the charge is an outrage on me. There is not the slightest foundation for any charge."

"PUBLIC ENEMY" BACK IN CELL

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—George (Red) Barker, alleged labor racketeer and listed as a "public enemy," was taken back to the Pontiac (Ill.) reformatory today, to complete more than four years of an unfinished term for violation of parole.

Barker was taken into custody after a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus in his behalf before Chief Justice McGority of the Criminal Court. Barker was arrested recently in a hunt for Capone gangsters.

the shock of her experience had caused the fatal heart attack. Mrs. Hussman is survived by her husband, Walter C. Hussman, a roofer, and a 12-year-old son, who were absent when the robber entered.

SEPTEMBER BUILDING PERMITS SHOW INCREASE OVER AUGUST

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Government financial leaders regard with interest recently compiled figures showing an increase in building permits for the United States as a whole of 5.3 per cent in September over August, the first increase in September compared with August since 1917.

The encouragement over the September increase is offset partly by the fact that building permits for this September amounted to only $123,437,689, compared with $173,207,952 last September.

A prediction that the present slump would continue for the rest of the year and that industrial production would not reach normal before April was made here last night by Lawrence H. Sloan, vice president of the Standard Statistics Co. of New York, in the course of an address before the Society of Industrial Engineers. He held that on a seasonal basis alone the signs were distinctly against sustained improvement.

The value of the residential building permits for September was lower than for any September since 1929, when the figures for 193 cities showed a total value of $96,749,923.

ST. LOUIS, MIDWEST DAY OBSERVED AT ARENA DAIRY SHOW

Judges View Last of Ayrshire, and Brown Swiss and Begin Inspection of Guernseys, Holsteins.

PROGRAM FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW AT ARENA DAIRY SHOW

THE program at the National Dairy Show at The Arena for today and tomorrow, follows:

TODAY.
St. Louis, Mid-West, Gopatis Guild and Milk Producers' day. Guild of Gopatis, annual meeting and banquet. City Club, 6:30 p. m.
Horse Show, The Arena, 8 p. m.
Cattle championship presentation, The Arena, 9 p. m.
FRIDAY.
St. Louis and School Children's day.
Guernsey and Holstein cattle judging, The Arena, 10 a. m.
Cattle parade, The Arena, 7:30 p. m.
Horse Show, The Arena, 8 p. m.
Cattle championship presentation, The Arena, 9 p. m.

Dairymen to whom cattle breeding is an exact science and quality dairy products the difference between red and black ink on the farm's ledger, gathered about the show ring at The Arena today to witness the finals in the Ayrshire and Brown Swiss judging and inspection of the first classes of Guernseys and Holsteins.

New that the cattle judging, which ends tomorrow, is in its final stages, more practical dairymen are taking a day or two from the farm to attend the National Dairy Show, which closes Sunday midnight. They filled the seats near the judging ring as the last of the Jerseys passed in review yesterday and formed part of an attendance of 21,766 persons.

Sportsmanship among breeders is evidenced in the show ring, as they readily concede the points of animals of the rival herds of the same breed. But they are intensely loyal to the breed they exhibit. A breeder of Jerseys, for instance, seldom will admit the merits of Guernseys.

Champion Ayrshire Bull, Willerton Satisfaction, senior Ayrshire bull champion, was named grand champion yesterday, defeating Starlight's Delmar, the junior champion. Grand champions receive purple ribbons but there is no competition between breeds. The new champion is owned by the Alta Crest Farms, Spencer, Mass.

The senior and grand champion Brown Swiss bull is March Molly Third's Master, owned by Joseph P. Allyn, Delavan, Wis., which defeated a herd mate, Beauty's Carl of Meadow Green, the junior champion.

The senior and grand championship of Jersey cows was won by Blonde's Cunning Mouse, a veteran show animal owned by J. S. Ellsworth, Polly Farm, Simsbury, Conn. Junior championship honors went to Design's Queen Onyx, owned by Herbert Farrell, Crieve Hall Farm, Nashville, Tenn.

Winners in the vocational student's national dairy cattle judging contest were announced last night at a dinner of the American Dairy Science Association at the Missouri Hotel. The winning teams, which represented 25 agricultural colleges, are:

All breeds: Iowa, first; Oklahoma, second; Oregon, third.
Ayrshires: Iowa, first; Oklahoma, second; Missouri, third.
Guernseys: Iowa, first; Illinois, second; Texas, third.

Holsteins: Wisconsin, first; Nebraska, second; Minnesota, third.
Jerseys: Michigan, first; Kansas, second; Tennessee, third.

The best individual judge was L. E. Key of Michigan. Robert D. Stewart of Iowa was the best Ayrshire judge. Howard Bennett of Oregon won the Guernsey judging contest. H. B. Goble of Ontario won the Holstein judging competition and the best Jersey judge was Ralph E. Hargrave of Missouri.

Joseph Edwards, Glasgow, Scotland, 32-year-old Cambridge graduate and winner of a scholarship offered by the British Ministry of Agriculture providing a year's study of dairy farming in this country, visited the show yesterday. Scottish dairy cattle herds are seldom broken up, he said, breeding from a foundation herd year after year. Diversified crops and increased consumption of farm products should afford farm relief, Edwards said.

"Before I left home I laid in a supply of Scotch whisky," he remarked, "because I knew they would be expected of me in this country."

The arena, he said, was his "most amazing sight."

Pupils Guess Tomorrow. Today has been designated as St. Louis, Mid-West, Gopatis and Milk Producers' day and tomorrow school children, who will have a half holiday, will attend the exposition. A special junior horse show performance will be given for them at 2 p. m., preceded by an entertainment at the Women's Home Exposition on the main floor of The Arena.

The affiliated Democratic Women's Organization, which maintain a booth at the women's exposition, announced today women from 26 States had registered there since the show opened.

The East St. Louis High School Drum, Bugle and Drill Corps, consisting of uniformed girls, participated in a parade through the downtown streets today, headed by the Mexican band from the exhibit of the Missouri Pacific Railroad at The Arena.

Although the St. Louis National Horse Show closes Sunday afternoon, an exhibition will be presented that night in The Arena by 150 members of the St. Louis District of the National Turners. It will include gymnastic feats and fancy drills by teams from the various Turnvereins.

Plans were outlined yesterday at a meeting of officers of the National Dairy Association and the National Exhibition Co. to invite the National Industries Exposition to exhibit in St. Louis during next year's dairy show.

At the football games or the prize fights, anywhere where men gather and good clothes are seen, you'll be at home in a Curlee English cut tweed topcoat... it looks like a million, but costs only twenty-seven dollars.

REPORT OF $15,000 "FIXING FUND" TO FREE PRISONER

Story That New York Magistrate Handling Case Got One-Third of Money, Is Under Investigation.

JUDGE BERTINI BREAKS SILENCE

Issues Statement Denying He Purchased Office and Charging "Political Persecution."

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Charges that as recently as last Tuesday a Magistrate shared in a $15,000 fund raised by the friends and family of one offender, a felony charge against whom was later dismissed are under investigation by Alder Kresel, counsel in the Appellate division's investigation of the Magistrate's courts.

The name of the Magistrate said to be involved is withheld. The information laid before Kresel is that $5000 apiece was paid to the Magistrate, a "fixer" and a lawyer with an extensive underworld practice. Arrangements for the dismissal of the prisoner, said to have been brought about by suppressing his police record, are reported to have been made in the vestibule of the Criminal Courts Building.

Kresel expects to interview 145 members of the underworld, who seem to have a curious immunity from long sentences, although most of them have police records. Some of these are at liberty, but it is expected that the Supreme Court will be asked for permission to bring here those now in prison.

It is thought that this phase of the investigation as well as the inquiry into the alleged fixing fund will throw some light on rumors that political influence is exercised by certain members of the underworld to keep from spending much time behind bars.

General Sessions Judge Amedeo A. Bertini issued an outright denial that he had ever paid a dollar to anyone for his appointment, nomination or election. Just as emphatically he said he would not resign even if freedom from prosecution were offered him.

In a 3500-word statement Judge Bertini for the first time made a defense to all the charges made against him during the extraordinary grand jury investigation of his appointment and explained that he refused to waive immunity because he considered himself the victim of political persecution.

With unceasing bitterness the Judge accused Special Prosecutor Todd of "feeding wickedly false information to the press," of violating the secrecy of grand jury testimony and "grossly misrepresenting" it and of using his power in the investigation to promote the interests of the Republican party in the election.

Judge Bertini's statement came after five days of silence in the face of criticism of his refusal to waive immunity and testify. Both in its wording and in its arguments the statement bore indications that it was prepared by the same group of lawyers, headed by Max D. Steuer, who recently issued a defense of the Tammany district leaders who had refused to waive immunity.

In his statement Judge Bertini indicated that if Gov. Roosevelt should call a special session of the Senate to begin removal proceedings against him, he would retire from the bench until the inquiry was concluded. The Governor's plans in connection with removal proceedings are in abeyance pending Supreme Court Justice McCook's decision on whether to turn over the grand jury's minutes to him for consideration.

GETS 15 YEARS, MAXIMUM, AS HABITUAL CRIMINAL

Ray Miller, Once in Prison for Grand Larceny, Convicted of Burglary.

Ray Miller, alias Ray Williams, who had served one previous penitentiary sentence for grand larceny, was convicted of burglary and larceny by a jury in Circuit Judge Bonk's court yesterday, and sentenced to 15 years in prison, under the habitual criminal statute. The sentence was the maximum under the law.

Miller was charged with robbing the home of Felix Kraft, 4227 Bonk street, April 1, 1929, taking women's dresses, jewelry and miscellaneous articles worth $170. His previous sentence occurred in June, 1926.

Another similar charge against his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Williams, growing out of the same offense, is awaiting trial.

Virgil Paganini, William and Mary WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Oct. 16.—Students of the College of William and Mary in a pleasant last night depicted the visit of Amos to Hades as told in the sixth book of Virgil's "Aeneid." It was the contribution of America's oldest collegiate fraternity, Alpha Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, to the world-wide bi-millennium observance of Virgil's birth and anniversary.

CLOSED SHOE STORE'S RECORDS ARE MISSING

Isadore Seigal Says He Placed Them in "Little Box"— Location Unknown.

A chip off the old block was Joe Seigal in Bankruptcy Court yesterday. His father, Isadore Seigal, bankrupt shoe merchant of West-ston, had outflanked four lawyers in the same court recently when he testified and, through his way through several hours of testimony in order to protect his homestead exemptions. The son attacked first—while the lawyers were still clearing their throats as he took the stand, he suddenly barked, "What have I got to do with this?"

When his examiners recovered their equilibrium they learned the son had bought his own shoe store without financial aid from his father, and in fact had helped the father by accompanying him in calls on creditors.

The elder Seigal was recalled and reminded that he had testified that it was another son, Sam, who had gone with him to attempt settlements with creditors.

The witness, a small, partly bald man, smiled and repeated that it was Sam. "But Joe might go some times," he added, "that was six months ago and I don't remember—I don't remember what I had for supper last night."

Questioned about missing business records, the father said he had put them in "a little box," his present location being unknown to him.

"Were they taken in that $2000 robbery you told us about?" Up went Seigal's eyebrows and shoulders. "I don't know," he said. "The day after the robbery I open the store at 11 a. m. and at noon the Sheriff comes and closes me up and I don't see the box."

William Bamber, Deputy Sheriff of St. Louis County, testified he did not notice the records when he levied on the store Aug. 16 under a creditor's execution. He stated that although Seigal had reported the loss of 550 pairs of shoes in the robbery, he had found a difference of only 150 pairs in counts during levies before and after the robbery.

JOHN P. ENGLISH QUILTS DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE

Feels He Should Not Be Member Because He Is Nominating for Court Clerk.

John P. English, 5714 Southwest avenue, Democratic nominee for Clerk of the Court, of Criminal Correction, has resigned as a member of the Democratic City Committee from the Twenty-fourth Ward because "a candidate for office should not be a member of the committee of the party on the ticket of which he is running."

In a letter yesterday to Joseph J. Matras, chairman of the Democratic Committee, English says: "Candidates under such circumstances tends to arouse suspicion of discrimination or partiality on the part of the committee in favor of the member candidate in the minds of other candidates. It tends to arouse suspicion of the motives of the committeemen in the minds of the voters. I want to have the committee free from suspicion of special interest in any candidate and want myself to be free from any sense of special obligation to the committee or anyone."

English is serving his third two-year term as a member of the committee. He is a World War veteran and is active in amateur athletics.

CLAIRVOYANT CALLS FORTH LIQUOR SPIRITS, ARRESTED

Dry Agents Report They Found
Beer and Whisky in Wells.

Ken Home.
Mrs. Leora Russell, 4219 Wells avenue, Wellston, a clairvoyant, professionally known as "Mrs. Ruth," was arrested by prohibition agents last Friday after they raided her home, finding 87 quarts of home brew and a pint of whisky. She was charged with possession of liquor and was released on $1000 bond when she reported at the Federal Building yesterday.

Prior to the raid, agents reported, they visited "Mrs. Ruth," and had their fortunes told. They complained of thirst, and she sold them home brew and a pint of whisky, they said. Upon their statements the search warrant for the raid was issued.

Deputy Prohibition Administrator Dillon said Mrs. Russell told him, "There's not much money in the home brew business, but there's more than in the fortune telling business." Mrs. Russell, a widow, has been a clairvoyant six years.

WOMAN KILLS SELF UNDER TRAIN

Engineer Sets Brakes and Runs to Save Her, Too Late.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—The engineer of a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train lost a race with his locomotive at Ridley Park station, near here, today when an unidentified woman killed herself beneath the wheels.

The train was on its way from Philadelphia to Wilmington. A short distance from the Ridley Park station the engineer saw the woman step from the end of the station platform and lay her hand on the rail. Applying the emergency brake, he realized the heavy train would not stop in time, so he jumped to the ground and ran alongside the locomotive in the hope of reaching her before it struck her. He was a moment too late.

HOMICIDE VERDICT HERE IN STE. GENEVIEVE CASE

Two Men and Woman, Negroes, Held in St. Louis
for Holdup Killing.

The inquest in the death of Paul Ritter, one of two men killed in a holdup at Ste. Genevieve last Sunday, was concluded today with a homicide verdict holding Lennie Taylor, Columbus Jennings and Vera Rogers, Negroes, who have signed confessions.

The Ritter inquest was held here because he died at St. Anthony's Hospital, having been brought from Ste. Genevieve in an automobile. A similar verdict was returned at Ste. Genevieve in the death of Harry Panchot.

The three Negroes, held here for safe keeping, took the stand but did not testify. Sheriff Zeigler of St. Genevieve County repeated Ritter's story that he and Panchot were lured to a boat landing near the town, robbed and shot, after which Ritter was thrown into the river and stoned. Zeigler said Taylor confessed he shot both men in a fight which began when one of the white men insulted the Negro woman.

Following the inquest, Sheriff Zeigler took the three prisoners to Ste. Genevieve for a preliminary hearing. He will bring them back to St. Louis tonight.

National Guardsmen from Festus and De Soto remained in Ste. Genevieve today to prevent racial disturbance while business men and American Legion members organized a group of special deputy sheriffs to replace the militia.

WEDDING MAY DISPOSE OF CHILD ABANDONMENT CHARGE

Unmarried Mother's Story After Baby Is Found in Woods Leads to Man's Arrest.

An unmarried pair charged with abandoning a two-week-old boy in a clump of weeds east of Belleville Oct. 5 were released on $1500 bond last night to confer with the State's Attorney today on the possibility that the charges, punishable by one to three years imprisonment and $200 to $1000 fine, might be dropped if they marry and take care of the child.

The man, William Van Dorn, 24, was said to have told the Sheriff he wanted to marry the girl, Estelle Hartman, 17. Both reside at Beckemeyer. Miss Hartmann, the Sheriff's office reported, said she left the child at Ogilvie Station after institutions had refused to accept it. She said she had not demanded aid of Van Dorn because she did not want to make trouble for him, and feared that his parents would separate them.

A farm hand heard the infant wailing and took it to a farmhouse, whence it was taken to the St. Clair Detention Home. A welfare worker of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society learned that a mother, with a child born in a St. Louis home where the girl was employed, had been discharged from Bethesda Hospital. A nurse identified the baby yesterday, and Miss Hartmann was arrested, her story leading to the arrest of Van Dorn.

Plans to Friends Before Going on Vacation.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 16.—The Examiner says Gloria Swanson, movie star, is preparing to file suit for divorce against the Marquis de la Palaise de la Coudraye, on the ground of desertion. The actress, the newspaper says, confided her plans to several friends, then left Hollywood for a short vacation. Last August, when the Marquis returned from Europe, he took a room in a hotel instead of going to the Swansons home in Beverly Hills. They have been separated and reunited several times since their marriage in Paris in January 1925.

HUSBAND RUNS STORE BUT WIFE RUNS TILL

Bankrupt Shoe Merchant Testifies All He Gets Is "Little Spending Money."

Morris Swartz, who manages a shoe store at 1514 South Broadway which he owned before it was forced into bankruptcy last July, doesn't get a nickel out of the business above his living and a "little spending money" that his wife gives him. So he testified during a lengthy examination in Bankruptcy Court yesterday in which he was somewhat vague about present ownership of the place.

Swartz stated that a woman friend of his wife bought the store for $1200 at a receiver's sale and later "turned it over" to Mrs. Swartz, saying she wanted nothing to do with it.

"I don't know whether the friend gave it or sold it to my wife," he said in response to questions, "Mrs. Swartz doesn't tell me everything."

"My wife's been getting the money but I don't know what she does with it," he continued. "I put it in the cash register and she takes it out. She takes care of my living and whenever I need a little spending money I ask her for a dollar."

The witness said the sign on the store reads, "Swartz Bankrupt Sale," whereas before bankruptcy it was "Morris Swartz—Family Shoe Store."

Although Swartz, contrary to law, has not yet filed schedules of assets and liabilities, he estimated that he owes $4000 and had a stock worth $2000 or $3000 before bankruptcy.

Shown a financial statement dated last March 21 which listed $7975 in assets and $2000 in merchandise debts, he admitted his signature, but explained that was his best estimate at the time.

Referee Coles, in continuing the case, suggested further investigation and ordered the bankrupt to file schedules "forthwith."

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The Shipping Board has adopted a policy under which it will sell no ships to lines operating in competition with holders of mail contracts or with operators of Government vessels.

This policy was announced following a meeting of the board yesterday. The new policy, the board said, was adopted for the purpose of strengthening the lines already established, many of which are receiving compensation from the Government for carrying mail.

FUND TO PROVIDE JOBS FOR 10,000 NEW YORK

Business Men Promise to Raise Weekly Payroll of $150,- 000.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—In order to provide 10,000 men with jobs
during the winter, a number of financial and business leaders have pledged themselves to raise a $150,000 payroll weekly.

Meeting at the offices of Steward Prosser, chairman of the board of The Bankers' Trust Co., the group yesterday formed an Emergency Employment Committee to raise the money which will be distributed through the Charity Organization Society and the Association for Im proving the Condition of the Poor.

Miss Ann Kempehall, superin tendent of the Charity Organiza tion Society, said arrangements have been made with the Depart ment of Parks to supply 3000 to 5000 men for work in the parks of Manhattan, the Bronx and Brook lyn, and that other work would be found.

The park employees would be paid $3 a day, she said, on a five day week basis, giving each man $15 a week, the lowest wage char ity organizations consider possi ble for a family to live on in New York.

Prosser said the two relief or ganizations have been receiving extraordinary demands because of unemployment. He declared the effort of his committee to raise funds for the societies would be in addition to the regular appeals of the organizations.

Every man at the meeting, he said, agreed that the unemploy ment situation was of such a na ture that it constituted a definite civic responsibility.

"The committee," he said, "is aware that its efforts cannot meet the situation entirely. It is our hope that municipal, State and na tional authorities will do their ut most to carry on a program of new public works which will open up new sources of employment and that all employers, whether corpo rations, firms or individuals, will also accept their responsibilities by maintaining as complete payrolls
as possible and by undertaking
new construction, improvements, repairs, etc., that ordinarily might be postponed until another year."

CUBA PROTESTS TO U. S.
AGAINST MOVIE, "HER MAN"

Government Charges Underworld Picture Is "Distorted Version" of Life in Havana.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Dr.
Jose T. Baron, Cuban Charge d'Affaires, yesterday asked officials of this Government to take neces sary steps to have all reference to Cuba stricken from the current movie entitled "Her Man," pur porting to be a picture of life in Havana's underworld.

At the same time, O. R. Strack bein, former assistant American Trade Commissioner in Havana, told C. J. North, chief of the De partment of Commerce, that the pic ture "constituted a libel against one of the cleanest and best policed cities in the Western Hemisphere."

Dr. Baron said no such under world as that depicted existed in Havana. He added the film "rick etted" Havana police in the pre sentation of various street scenes and brawls.

FIRE, DISABLING BATTLESHIP, MAY HAVE BEEN DELIBERATE
Phonograph Needles Said to Have Been Thrust Into Electric Cables.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The Evening Star said today that the Navy Department believes the fire which disabled the battleship Colorado last June may have been deliberate and investigators in the guise of seamen have been aboard her in an effort to find the guilty persons.

The paper said Secretary Adams had disclosed the investigation was under way. Naval intelligence investigators, its account said, had found the fire resulted in a short circuit of electric cables "into which ordinary phonograph needles had been thrust."

The fire occurred while the battleship was awaiting passage through the Panama Canal at Colon, necessitating extensive repairs.

The Star's account said while Secretary Adams conceded the damage was great he was inclined to minimize the importance of the investigation phases.

The phonograph needles, of which there is a plentiful supply aboard all big naval vessels, were said to have been inserted in several places in the main cables of the plotting room, hidden beneath wrapping of tape.

SECOND AUDIT OF BRUNK'S ACCOUNTS BEGUN BY CANTLEY
Securities Posted by State Depositories to Be Checked; Removed Officer Delays Statement.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 16.—A second audit of the accounts and transactions of the department of State Treasurer Larry Brunk of Aurora, who was suspended Tuesday by Gov. Caulfield after his investigators found irregularities in interest payments on State deposits in the defunct Bank of Aurora, was stated today by acting State Treasurer S. L. Cantley.

The new check is independent of an audit which is under way at the direction of Gov. Caulfield, of the interest payments of all of the 42 State depositories for the period from Jan. 1, 1929, when Brunk was inaugurated as State Treasurer, to the present time.

Cantley's audit covers everything that was in the treasurer's office at the time Cantley took charge, immediately after Brunk was suspended Tuesday.

The auditors have begun the verification of approximately $16,000,000 in securities posted by the depositories for the safeguarding of deposits, a check of the deposit accounts in each bank, a check of receipts and disbursements with corresponding records in the State Auditor's department and other records.

Brunk, at Kansas City today, said he would not make a statement until he had consulted a lawyer. "If my attorney agrees, then I shall make a detailed statement," he said. "All I can say now is that there were no false entries."

FARM BOARD ASKS FOR INQUIRY INTO ATTACKS ON ITS WORK
McKelvie and Legge Say Organized Grain Trade Is Back of Opposition.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Sam R. McKelvie, grain member of the Federal Farm Board, said today that the organized grain trade was back of attacks on the Farm Board, which he has requested the Federal Trade Commission to investigate. Most attacks emanate from Nebraska and the Northwest, he said, although material published in Nebraska is being circulated in Kansas.

In addition to requesting the Trade Commission to determine whether the attacks constitute unfair trade practices, McKelvie said he had directed articles circulated through the mails to the attention of the Postoffice Department.

Chairman Legge said the attacks were of two classes, one holding the board is inefficient and not aiding the farmer, and the other from the grain trade, saying it is hurting their business.

AMELIA EARNHART OMITTED FROM HER FATHER'S WILL Intentional, but No Explanation: $5000 Estate Goes to Flyer's Stepmother.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 16.—Amelia Earnhart, aviatrix, was omitted from the will of her father, Edwin S. Earnhart, it was disclosed yesterday when the document was filed for probate. The estate, valued at $5000, was left to the widow, Helen M. Earnhart, stepmother of the girl flyer.

The will stated Miss Earnhart and other relatives were intentionally left out, but gave no reason. Other relatives were Mrs. Albert Morrissey, a daughter, Mr. Ford, Miss A. M. Earnhart, brother, and Mrs. Charles Rose, sister, both of Kansas City, Mo.

MUSIC TEACHER DIES IN STREET
Simon F. Faust Returning Home After Giving Lesson.

Simon F. Faust, 47 years old, a music teacher, 1222 1/2 W. 12th street, died suddenly when walking in front of 4817 South Broadway at 8:40 o'clock last night. Death is thought to have been due to heart disease.

Faust was on his way home after giving a violin lesson when he collapsed. Papers in his pockets led to identification of the body at the morgue by a son, Walter.

Correction on Suicide's Address.
Emil Hagen, baggage handler, who ended his life by shooting at the foot of Zipp street last Monday, resided at 3219 South Ninth street, not at 3212, as published in last Tuesday's Post-Dispatch.

STALEY'S MASTER BLENDER

Pancakes at their very best
are served swimming in Staley's mellow Golden Syrup, with that true old-time "sugar-house flavor."

LOTS of folks swear this Golden Syrup of ours is the finest of all my blends. It has the true old-time sugar-house flavor that I learned in the Old South nearly fifty years ago, when we cooked our syrups over open wood fires.

"For flavor I use the finest premium grade of syrup from the first run of the best cane sugar refineries. But the real knack is blending at just the right times and just the right temperatures—so as to bring out all its mellow smoothness and pure golden color."

"Just taste this Golden Syrup. You'll see what a difference it makes to be extra careful in the blending."

Ask your grocer for Staley's Golden Syrup. Serve it with pancakes, waffles, hot biscuits and muffins. Delicious! And so inexpensive, too.

200-Mile-an-Hour Plane Lines With Greater Safety and Economy In Operation Soon, Ford Chief Says

William B. Stout, Addressing Engineers' Club, Predicts Hourly Service From St. Louis to New York.

Passenger airlines with an operating speed of 200 miles an hour are in immediate prospect for commercial aviation, William B. Stout, vice president of the airplane division of Ford Motor Co., and designer of the Ford tri-motored airplane, declared last night in a speech at the Engineers' Club, 4333
Lindell boulevard.

Stout pointed out that radical increases in speed have been made from year to year without any sacrifice of safety and with decided benefits in shortening schedules and decreasing operating costs for airline operators.

"Aviation is just about the only transportation activity in the world that gets greater economy and safety with increased speed," he said.

"If you increase the speed of a railroad train, an automobile or a steamship you run up your operating costs tremendously. Beyond a certain point you also cut down on the safety factor in a marked degree.

Depression Helps Research.
"Just what an increase in speed
in an airplane will do, provided no radical measures are used, is nicely shown in our experience with our own tri-motored plane during the past spring and summer.

"Like all other progressive manufacturers, we turned to intensive research work when the present slump in business cut down on our production and sale of planes.
When we produced our most recent model, powered with three 425-horsepower engines, we congratulated ourselves that we had a pretty up-to-date production, yet
our research work this summer enabled us to add more than 30 miles an hour to its speed.

"We did this by cleaning up every detail of design and vastly refining it until we had brought it near its greatest efficiency. We redesigned streamlines forms for greater efficiency and cut down air resistance to an absolute minimum.

"Result—the plane that used to have a high speed of 130 miles an hour, now has a high speed of 164, with the same engines. Its landing speed has not been changed.
What does that mean to the airline operator who uses such a ship?

What High Speed Means.
"It means more miles per gallon
of gasoline and oil, since the engines make the same number of revolutions for 164 miles an hour
that they formerly made for 130.
It means that the schedules will be shortened, there will be less expense for pilots' salaries and most of all, it spells a reduction in the capital investment needed for operation of an airline.

"With the increase in speed,
nine planes, costing the same amount of money and operating more cheaply, can do the work performed by 12 of the old type.

"Our experience is a convincing proof of the work that can be done
to make airplane travel so economical, so swift and so safe that the public can't afford to use slower methods of transportation."

Refinements in design, including radical increases in speed,
have formed the outstanding advances in airplane design during the past year, Stout said.

Getting Away From Hodge Podge.
"And it goes without saying,"
he added, "that we look for even greater progress in the future. You know, aviation is just getting away from design by committee, with every member pulling for a different feature and every member getting his pet features into the airplane.

"That is a hangover from the days of military domination of design which resulted from the World War. The result of putting a hodge-podge of ideas into one design was that the early airplane, and even some of the more recent models, looked like accidents going somewhere to happen.

"That is all changed now. Individual designers are being allowed to carry out their own sound ideas in development and refinement of old ideas, and we shall see many new features in the future, as a result.

"There are still many changes
to be made that are almost fundamental for efficient performance.
What would you think, for instance, of a motorboat designer
who would put his engines on outriggers outside the boat, and try to drag them through the water with his high-speed craft.

"You'd say he was crazy. And yet contemporary multi-engine design calls for the engines on outriggers, dragged through the air and cutting down immensely on the speed of the ship. That's pretty dumb, isn't it?

Engines Inside the Wing.
"And it will have to be changed,
as soon as we can get around to
it. We shall have to put the engines inside the wing and it goes without saying we are already working toward that end. It will spell a marked increase in high speed without adding to the landing speed or subtracting from safety.

"Similarly, we wouldn't think highly of a motorboat designer
who'd tow his deck or landing stage around through the water with him. His boat wouldn't travel very fast. And yet the present airplane is forced to haul a heavy,

WILLIAM B. STOUT

cumbersome landing gear around with it, suffering a marked loss of speed because it presents such great resistance to the air.

"There's a subject for more research. The airplane of the immediate future is going to get away from that. We're going to pull that landing gear up out of the way as soon as we leave the ground and we're going to keep it out of the way until we get ready to land."

It is such improvements, Stout declared, that will make possible cruising speeds of 200 miles an hour within a short time.

Means Cheap Travel.

"I think none of us really realizes what a future high speed is going to bring to the commercial airline," he said. "The economy
it will bring will make airplane travel cheap. The fact that a single plane can be operated on a pro rata basis as cheaply as many planes is going to mean hourly schedules between cities like St.
Louis and New York.

"You're not going to have to wait until a whole trainload of passengers is got together before you can start for Chicago or New York.
An airline can haul 15 passengers
at a time just as cheaply as it can haul 120 and the result is going to be hourly departures instead of service every three, six or nine hours."

Turning to a discussion of the private flyer, Stout declared that in the more remote future, but probably within a generation, small airplanes would be as common as motor cars now are.

"We're going to have an airplane for the beginner that will be as easy to fly as an automobile is to drive. Of course, it's not going to be foolproof any more than the automobile is foolproof.
But it's going to be able to land in a small lot and take off from it, and that's just about the ultimate in safety.

"I am confident that the other predominant type for the private owner will be a four or five passenger plane with a speed of 140 to 160 miles an hour, for the more experienced pilot."

New Features Necessary.

Among features that must be incorporated in small commercial airplanes before they are sold generally Stout enumerated the following: Reduction of noise from the engine, easier landing characteristics, better forward vision for the pilot, and probably all-metal construction.

"The hangover from the days
when airplanes were made for military pilots is still observable in the question of forward vision," Stout declared. "The military pilot—naturally—wants to sit back near the tail, where he can look around and see who's shooting at him."

"Our own (Ford) monoplane, like any airplane of progressive commercial design, has good visibility forward. Yet the military pilot getting into it will invariably look back of him and say, 'Gee,
this thing is blind, isn't it?'"

"That's because tradition and training force him to expect to be able to look back even though he has only an imperfect view forward. The commercial designer, on the other hand, must first insure good forward visibility. After all, that's the way the plane is headed."

Fog Greatest Problem.
Stout expressed the belief that research proceeding along parallel lines with airplane design would bring progressively greater safety in airplane operation, which he asserted was even now much safer than the public generally realizes.
"Every day," he said, "American airlines travel 12,500 miles in daylight and 15,000 after dark. Yet a crash on an airline is a very, very rare occurrence."

"The greatest problem still to be solved is landing an airplane in a heavy fog. Will it be solved eventually? I hope so. But it is only fair to reflect in this connection that the steamship has been in operation for a long time, yet no one has been able to make the machine to bring it safely into harbor in a fog."

Liquor Seized on U. S. Ship.
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 14.—Customs officials yesterday arrested
five officers of the United States Shipping Board steamship West Cohasset and held them under bond of $1000 each after 12 quarts of liquor were confiscated on the ship.

him in a rowboat. His name was

REAR ADMIRAL DIES WHILE PLAYING GOLF
Joseph Ziegemeier, Naval Commandant in Northwest, Succumbs to Apoplexy.

By the Associated Press.
BREMERTON, Wash., Oct. 15.—
Stricken with apoplexy, Rear Admiral Henry Joseph Ziegemeier, 61 years old, commandant of the Thirteenth Naval District, collapsed
while playing golf here yesterday and died in the arms of C. E. B.
Oldham, Mayor of Bremerton.
The Admiral had appeared to be in good health, but had complained at the start of the match of being slightly indisposed.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs.
Jewel Hildings Ziegemeier, to whom he was married in Los Angeles in 1921, and a 7-year-old daughter, Rosemary.
Admiral Ziegemeier was born in Allegheny, Pa., March 27, 1869, and was graduated from the Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1890, entering from Ohio. He saw 21 years of sea duty, serving in the Spanish-American and World wars.

He was made a rear Admiral in 1922. He came to Bremerton as commandant in June, 1928, after serving in a similar capacity for a short time in the Ninth Naval District.

BANKER MYSTERIOUSLY SHOT
Called from Home Near Garber, Ok., by Telephone.
By the Associated Press.
ENID, Ok., Oct. 15.—While physicians worked today to save the life of George Taft, 45-year-old banker of Garber, Ok., officers of Garfield County sought to learn the circumstances of his shooting.
Taft, who had rushed from his home last night in answer to a telephone call, was found beside a highway half a mile from Garber, shot above and below the heart.
He was lying on a revolver which had been discharged three times.
The third shot had penetrated his clothing. His automobile stood in the road, its headlights burning.
He was unable to talk about the shooting. Officers hesitated to pronounce the wounds self-inflicted.
If Taft were robbed, his assailants neglected to take his watch and ring. No money was found on his person, although friends said he usually carried a considerable amount. Taft, vice president of the Farmers' State Bank of Garber, has extensive oil and milling interests and was active in Republican political circles.

up, and robbed of 25 cents the other night.

life your 25 cents gave me. It helped me to bigger things."

"Will you marry him for $10,000
a year?"

AMAZING PROPOSITION! Had any girl ever been faced by such a problem?

"Marry Stacey Ven, and I will give you ten thousand dollars a year until I die."

What should she do? Money could not buy love. But it could buy comfort, security, all the luxuries she had never had. Since her father's death, she had been practically penniless. Dare
she risk this loveless marriage?

She was tempted. But all at once her romantic nature rebelled against the thought of being sold on the auction block.

"I'm not for sale!" she cried.

But he forced her to take five thousand dollars. "Keep this on account," he said. "Tomorrow you will think differently. Then let me know your decision..."

Before the next day, however, a startling chain of circumstances had swept her into the maelstrom of a strange murder mystery and a romantic adventure—with a total stranger!

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch
and New York World.

Company, Inc., New York, N. Y.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Richard B.
Bennett, recently elected Conservative Prime Minister of Canada, in a radio speech last night delivered something approaching an ultimatum
to the British Government in urging the necessity that the present imperial conference should scheme for closer economic relations between the component parts of the British commonwealth of nations.

"We believe it is in the interest of our own country," he said, "that closer empire trade relations should be established. We believe that it is equally in the interest of the other parts of the empire that it should be so. In that view there is no disagreement."

"Canada suggested a plan by which this may be brought about.
(The nub of Bennett's proposal referred to here, was for a 10 per cent tariff preference in Great Britain in favor of empire imports and the same in the dominions in favor of British imports.) I shall not refer to the reception our proposal received."

The statements by the Labor Government, the Liberal organs or opponents and Labor party leaders
since the Canadian Premier's speech was made were virtually refusals
to accept it.

Opportunity's Single Knock.

"In the near future," Bennett said, "the Canadian offer will be either accepted or rejected. We can only await the decision. It will be momentous, for I believe, and believing, I consider it my duty to say that if this opportunity for closer empire economic relations is not seized it may not come again.
This I need not tell you, is in no wise intended as a threat. It is rather a prediction, which, unhappily, I believe to be true."

He concluded with a scarcely veiled protest against the Labor and Liberal opposition to tariffs.

"We must all have regard for the basic changes in the conditions of world trade and realize that in the age of great industrialization and fierce competition the old rules, which in their time were good rules, may very well be, if they are followed now, the sign posts to commercial disaster."

At the time the Canadian Premier was uttering this combined
plea and warning Stanley Baldwin, former Conservative Prime Minister and leader of the Tory party here, issued his program for the next general election advocating an immediate emergency British tariff
on imported manufactured goods,
but suggesting, instead of a duty
on imported foodstuffs, some form of quota scheme which would eliminate British agriculture and at the same time enable the Dominions to fill orders for foodstuffs now imported to Great Britain from foreign countries.

Baldwin Backs Quota Plan.

It is some such quota plan on which experts at the Imperial conference are now working at the request of the British delegates. The sponsors of the quota plan have put it forward as a substitute for Bennett's proposal that Britain tax imported wheat with a preference in favor of the Dominions.

Baldwin's support of the quota
plan, instead of Bennett's scheme, has considerable domestic political significance. It is apparently his last and considered utterance on the subject, in the form of a letter to the House of Commons, in Baldwin's empire crusade which accepted the Canadian Premier's proposition involving food taxes in this country.

The probability is, therefore,
that now on the eve of the British election the empire crusade party will come more strenuously than ever to the effort to depose Baldwin as the leader and will attempt to oust him out of politics.

Baldwin, in his pronouncement,
which took the form of a letter to Neville Chamberlain, chairman of the Conservative party machine,
who was Minister of Health in Baldwin's last Cabinet, said:
"I have already promised to maintain the price of home-grown wheat used for bread-making to halt the dumping here of foreign bounty-fed oats to put a

Labor Leader Answers Attack Of Associated Industries on Plan For State Compensation Fund

R. T. Wood Says Private Companies Induce Workers to Shave Their Claims, Make Frivolous Defenses and Cause Litigation.

THE following statement, issued by the President of the Missouri State Federation of Labor in defense of Proposition No. 4, an initiative measure, providing for exclusive State insurance under the Workmen's Compensation Law, has been issued in reply to a recent statement of the Associated Industries of Missouri, which attacked the proposition. It is to be voted on at the November election.

By R. T. WOOD,
President, Missouri State Federation of Labor.

AT the November election the people of Missouri will vote on Proposition No. 4, which is an initiative measure providing for exclusive State insurance under the Workmen's Compensation Law. It forbids employers from insuring their liability under the compensation law with stock, mutual or reciprocal or any other private insurance companies, and requires them to carry such insurance in the "Missouri Compensation Insurance Fund," which is administered by the Missouri Workmen's Compensation Commission. It does not affect the right of any employer to carry his own insurance.
The Missouri State Federation of Labor is advocating the adoption of the proposition because four years' operation of the law shows that it is one-sided, against the injured worker and in favor of the insurance companies, and expensive to the employer.

The scant compensation allowed the injured permits him to employ either physician or lawyer, and he is compelled to take what the insurance physician and adjuster will give him. Spurred by the motives of profit and self-interest insurance physicians have minimized disabilities and injuries, and adjusters have shaved claims, interposed technicalities and frivolous defenses, and taken an undue number of cases to court.

Disarmed of physician and lawyer and of financial means, the injured worker must fight for his rights against the wealth and power of the insurance company.
This will be so as long as the insurance companies are permitted to be connected with the law and make profits.

40 Per Cent for Companies.

Today the insurance companies receive 40 per cent as their share of the premiums, and also make the banking profit. Experience in Ohio shows that the State fund can be administered for about 4 per cent and can furnish the insurance at an initial saving of 25 per cent, increasing to 50 per cent
as the reserves accumulate and earn a banker's profit.

Injury and death should not be in commerce for profit. The only remedy for these conditions is to eliminate the insurance companies and their profits, and have the State furnish the insurance at cost and protect both employer and employee as a matter of public policy.

In a statement opposing the proposition, the Associated Industries say that it establishes a principle abhorrent to our form of government, which is new and untried in any other state, and which prohibits a legitimate private business. In its essentials and principle, the proposition is no different than that in force in 15 other states, in seven of which the state
fund is exclusive.

In 1918 our Republican party declared for it in its platform. The war risk insurance of the Federal Government is identical in principle.

They cannot see the distinction between injury and death, and other subjects of commerce. The Government should not enter into or restrict the field of ordinary business. But there are things,
and among them injury and death,
which do not belong to business,
and for the Government to eliminate the profit and take over the field of these is not an interference with legitimate business.

State Treasurer Bonded.

They say the State fund will be unsafe because there is no liability
on the part of the State, and it will be administered by public officials not possessed of technical knowledge or administrative ability. Under our constitution the State cannot be made liable for the integrity of the fund. But the present law requires a bond of each member of the commission, and in the proposition itself the State Treasurer is made custodian of the fund and his official bond is liable for its safe-keeping.

It must be assumed that if there be involved any technical knowledge of which the officials administering the fund do not deem themselves possessed, they will employ experts having such knowledge, as do the insurance companies themselves. Administrative ability is not peculiar to insurance companies, nor is it lacking in public officials. Several insurance companies have become insolvent.
Yet none of the 16 State funds has ever had to close its doors.

The statement gives the impression that the state fund will not only insure for compensation, but will go into the general business of employer's liability at common law.
This is not so. Section 92 of the proposition limits this to common law liability only to employees
not under the act of an employer who is under the act. It does not authorize the insurance of an employer not under the act. In other words the employer must first have compensation insurance for those of his employees who are under the act, and as an incident may insure at common law those who are not under it.

Cases of this kind are not frequent and the amount of the business is small. Practically all of his employees may be under the compensation act, and the employer may have a few who reject the act, or are excepted from it. Such an employer should be able to obtain full coverage from the State
fund and this is all the proposition means.

Answers Tax Point.

The statement makes the claim that the proposition will increase taxes because the State and each political subdivision thereof are required to insure in the State fund.
Sections 5 and 6 of the compensation act exempt the State and its subdivisions from the law unless they elect to accept it by special law, so that they do not have to insure unless they accept it.

If they accept it, and insure with the State fund, they will save from 26 per cent to 50 per cent of what they would have to pay a private company, and taxes would decrease. If they attempted to carry their own insurance, each subdivision would have to establish, maintain and administer an insurance fund and claim department of its own, which in the long run would be more expensive than having the one State fund take care of them all.

The statement objects to transferring the State insurance fund from the supervision of the Insurance Department to that of the Compensation Commission. The commission is required to make the insurance rates and operate the fund—or, in other words, to run its own business. There is no reason why two sets of public officials should supervise the fund.

The Superintendent of Insurance has supervision over all other lines
of insurance, and has enough to do without compensation insurance. It is a field in itself and one better left solely under the supervision of the commission charged with responsibility for the success of the law. Should it abuse its powers, its actions are subject to review
by the courts in like manner as those of the Superintendent of Insurance.

The statement is prefaced with the claim that the proposition will take away the livelihood of local agents and employees of insurance companies. Compensation insurance is only one of the many lines
of insurance written by these companies, and without it there is plenty of work for their local agents and employees.

Sustained by Court.

The statement concludes with reference to a decision of a Massachusetts court holding an exclusive state motor vehicle insurance fund to be a monopoly. This decision has no application to Proposition
No. 4 for the simple reason that the two funds are not alike. The Massachusetts fund, as the court says,
"is not designated as, nor attached to a department of the commonwealth," the Missouri fund is attached to, and is administered by the Missouri Workmen's Compensation Commission, and is part of the general scheme of the compensation
law. The constitutionality of exclusive state funds in connection with Workmen's Compensation laws has been sustained by the Supreme Court of the United States.

AUSTRIA OFFENDED AT SPEECH BY CZECH FOREIGN MINISTER

Vienna Cabinet Member Demands Explanation of Reference to "Internal Shocks."

By the Associated Press.
VIENNA, Oct. 16.—Austria and Czechoslovakia are embroiled in a diplomatic incident over a speech
by Foreign Minister Benes of Czechoslovakia yesterday.

Dr. Ignaz Seipel, Austrian Foreign Minister, demanded an explanation from Czechoslovakia about a passage reflecting on Austria. Dr.
Seipel, former Austrian Chancellor, says the reference constitutes "an incredible interference" in Austria's domestic affairs.

An official communique says Dr.
Benes told his audience that present developments in Austria indicated it was perhaps again advancing toward severe internal shocks.

Another statement at which Dr.
Seipel took umbrage was a remark that the Austrian Constitution had been revised under Chancellor Johann Schober.

The Foreign Minister, in an official statement, said that such utterances found no parallel in speeches by Ministers of any other country.

LARGE INCREASE IN BRITISH WHEAT IMPORTS FROM RUSSIA

Survey for Year Shows Sharp Decline in Shipments From Argentina.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Remarkable changes in the sources of supply of British wheat as compared with last year—including a large increase in imports from Russia—were shown in today's issue of the weekly Board of Trade Journal.

The Argentine republic's contribution to wheat used in Britain declined from 21,500,000 to 13,500-000 hundredweight in the first nine months of this year, as compared to the same period of 1929.

Consignments from Canada declined from 22,500,000 to 19,500-
000 hundredweight, although in September the wheat received from Canada nearly doubled that shipped in September a year ago.

Shipments from the United States showed little change but Australian imports were less than last year by about 10 per cent and India this year sent Britain 2,250-000 hundredweight as against a negligible quantity last year.

The Russian wheat imports totaled 3,500,000 hundredweight, compared to small quantities in 1928 and 1929.

U. S. REPORTS SEASONAL INCREASE IN EMPLOYMENT

Industrial Activity Offsets Slump
in Building; Coal Mining Picks Up.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Seasonal increases in industrial operations were credited yesterday by the Federal Employment Service for a gain in the number of workers employed during September.

This advance was noted in certain sections of the country, the employment service said, offsetting to some degree a slackness in labor demand attributed to slower pace of building operations and the reduced rate of operations in the automobile and accessory industries.

An increase in coal mining, rather steady work in boots and shoes, certain improvement in textiles, and a "somewhat brighter aspect" in the steel industry were described as existing at the beginning of October. Ship building yards had speeded up and taken on more hands, while the fall harvest demand for agricultural labor was said to be general.

Gen. Lazaro Cardenas Head of Na-

By the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 16.—One of the youngest Generals in the Mexican army, Gen. Lazaro Cardenas, has been named president of the National Revolutionary (adminis-

Gen. Cardenas, Governor of the State of Michoacan, distinguished himself on the Federal side during the Escobar revolution in the spring of 1929. He commanded the troops whose drive up the west coast of Mexico finally broke the back of the rebel resistance.

ROME, Oct. 16.—Measures ranging from modification of theatrical censorship to the setting up of a new commercial code, the proclamation of more national holidays and the fixing of the rights of Italians who have forfeited their citizenship, were passed at yesterday's session of the Cabinet Council over which Prime Minister Mussolini presided.

Theatrical censorship in Italy is to be taken out of the hands of prefects of Provinces and intrusted to the Ministry of the Interior which will work through special boards of which Chiefs of Police will be chairmen. Other members of the central board will be the Advocate-General of the Roman Court of Appeals, a delegate from the Fascist party and a delegate from the National Fascist Authors and Playwrights' Union. The idea of the new system is to standardize censorship and simplify the application of the Government's ideas
as to what is permissible on the stage.

The new commercial code is a fulfillment of Mussolini's recent announcement that he meant to punish severely the "acrobats of the business world." It provides that the promoters and board chairmen of corporations which defraud the

This is Average of $4.32 for Each Since Plan Was Placed in Operation.

Public school pupils deposited $173,059 in school savings banks during the first six months of their operation ending June 30, Superintendent of Schools Gerling announced today.

DR. LURIN P. MACKLIN, BILLIARDS STAR, DIES

Ranking Amateur at Three-Cushion Game Succumbs at 42 to Paralysis.

Dr. Lurin P. Macklin, former national amateur champion at three-cushion billiards, died of paralysis yesterday at his home, 728 Belt avenue. He was 42 years old and physician for the Board of Education.

For the last eight years he had been considered the ranking amateur at three-cushion billiards in St. Louis. His study of the angle system reduced his play to a mathematical basis and in practice matches he defeated such experts as John Layton, the world champion, Willie Hoppe, Jake Schaefer and Allen Hall.

A native St. Louisan, Dr. Macklin was a graduate of the University of Missouri and the Medical School of Washington University. During the World War he served in Italy as a Lieutenant in the United States Medical Corps.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at Bensiek-Niehaus undertaking establishment, 1431 Union boulevard. Surviving are his widow, a sister, Mrs. Ouida Hauser, and his mother, Mrs. Lillian J. B. Macklin.

GREEN RE-ELECTED AS PRESIDENT OF LABOR FEDERATION

of the International Association of Machinists, sixth vice president, and Joseph N. Weber of New York City, a member of the American Federation of Musicians, seventh vice president. All were unopposed. The federation today offered an unemployment relief plan in the form of a co-operative committee of public and private groups headed by President Hoover.

Under the plan, adopted at yesterday's convention session, the President, Governors of all states, Mayors and other city and county officers as well as labor groups would appoint national, state, county and district committees. In cooperation with Federal and state departments, these committees would make specific recommendations for their particular localities.

The executive council of the Federation was instructed by the convention to call on President Hoover immediately after the adjournment of the convention.

A report of the resolutions committee said: "Public works should be started at once and all procedures and practices making for delay should be removed. Private enterprises should not withhold necessary extensions, improvements and repairs, but all should do their share for this emergency."

Suggestions included in the relief plan were those of the Federation executive council, which said that relief of unemployment depended on the stabilizing of industry, maintenance of purchasing power to provide power of consumption, efficiency in management, reduction in hours of work, use of public works to meet cyclical unemployment, a nation-wide system of employment exchanges and adequate records.

The convention referred to the executive council the question of unemployment insurance. President William Green said that such insurance limited the liberties of the working man and that, while in some European countries it might have been found practicable, the methods used there would not apply here.

Aid for Textile Strikers.
An appeal by two young women for support for the 4000 striking textile workers in Danville, Va., brought immediate contributions from the delegates to the convention today and a promise from President Green that the Federation "would rise to the necessity of the occasion."

Mrs. Lucille Humble and Mrs. Della Dureath, themselves strikers, charged that the Danville workers were overworked, underpaid and denied the right to organize. The women said they were forced to operate first 16 looms, then 32 and finally 64, that the "stretch out" system had been accompanied by a 10 per cent wage cut and that the workers toiled 55 hours a week for wages ranging between $8 and $12 a week.

The first organization meeting was held on Feb. 9 and on the following day 200 leaders in the organization movement were discharged. Mrs. Humble said.

Baldwin reiterated his general support of Bennett's scheme of empire preference, except the part calling upon Great Britain to tax imported wheat with a preference for the dominions—which is the real heart of the Canadian proposal. On this point he said:

"We intend to introduce a system under which a definite proportion of the flour used to make bread baked in this country shall be made from home-grown wheat. This proportion would be fixed from time to time in such a way that all the wheat of requisite quality produced in this country be utilized. We adopted this method in preference to a tariff on foreign wheat because no tariff

CITY-COUNTY PLAN OPPONENTS MAKE APPEAL TO STATE

'Save St. Louis County League' Issues 24-Page Pamphlet Calling for Defeat of Proposition 5.

A 24-page pamphlet analyzing Proposition No. 5, constitutional amendment permitting the consolidation of St. Louis and St. Louis County under certain stated conditions, has been issued by the Save St. Louis County League for distribution throughout the State in opposing the proposal.

The booklet quotes each section of the proposed amendment, the analysis of the Metropolitan Committee, which is sponsoring it, and the interpretation of the Save St. Louis County League.

Copies mailed to out-state voters in rural districts are accompanied by a letter from John J. Boland, former president of the Missouri Farm Bureau. "We of St. Louis County," the letter states, "agree that St. Louis and St. Louis County should be given every opportunity to work out their mutual problems, and with that in mind we vigorously supported a constitutional amendment in 1924, which provided for a Board of Freeholders, composed of equal representatives of St. Louis and St. Louis County."

"The plan worked out by this body did not receive the necessary vote. However, another Board of Freeholders may be appointed next year. We believe that this is a problem for the city and county to solve and one that should not be submitted to the vote of the State at large."

Judge Wehmer Denies County Has $465,000 Deficit.

A report issued yesterday by the Bureau of Municipal Research for the Metropolitan Development Committee, stating that St. Louis County had a deficit in operating funds of $465,434 at the end of the 1928-29 fiscal year, was characterized today by Presiding Judge Wehmer of the County Court administrative body as misrepresenting the financial condition of the county.

"When I took office nearly four years ago," he said, "the report of the State Auditor, after his employees had spent several months on the books of the County Court, showed that there was a deficit of $202,902 on Jan. 26, 1927. On Jan. 20, 1930, the deficit had been reduced to $172,435, and by the end of this year the deficit in operating funds will be wiped out."

"The figures quoted by the Bureau of Municipal Research are as of March 15. Taxes for the year are collected in December and we have been forced by the deficit which confronted us when we took office, to issue warrants anticipating their collection. Expenditures at the first of the year naturally are high and by the middle of March we have issued many warrants against the year's taxes."

"Other statements in the report are, plain misrepresentations, also. The Bureau states that we do not operate by budget, but this has been the practice during my term as Presiding Judge."

"We may collect only 10 per cent more taxes this year than last under our laws. Determining the amount collected the previous year, we add 10 per cent to determine our anticipated revenue. This sum then is apportioned to the various funds and a balance in each fund is struck each month."

County Gets Fees.

"The statement that we do not receive reports from offices supported by fees is false. Each quarter, the Prosecuting Attorney, Recorder, Clerk of the Circuit Court, Constables, Justices of the Peace and any others make a report of fees received."

"An audit of county offices is made each year by the State Auditor and the reports of these fee-supported offices are carefully checked, as well as the records of the County Clerk."

"Furthermore, we believe that our system of accounting and record-keeping is a good one, although the crowded condition of the courthouse does not permit us sufficient space."

Roesel Discusses Report.

Robert A. Roesel, chairman of the Speakers' Committee of the Citizens' Metropolitan Committee, discussed the report of the bureau yesterday in a talk before the Lions Club at the American Hotel Annex.

"The report shows in plain and unmistakable terms," he said, "the methods which have led the county to the brink of bankruptcy and financial ruin. Although it does not show dishonesty on the part of anyone, it does show unchecked opportunity for graft and dishonesty."

"Proposition No. 5 contemplates the abolition of the County Court and the substitution of a Comptroller of the Greater City. This will guarantee the use of sound accounting methods."

I find Colgate's not only cleans the surfaces safely, but also because of its very effective wetting power and low surface tension (penetrating foam) it has greater ability than other dentifrices to get down into tiny crevices and fissures of the teeth, flooding away decaying food particles. Other dentifrices, because they are sluggish, lack this power."

STOCKS SHOW HEAVY TONE LATE IN DAY; TRADE LIGHT

Profits Are Taken in Shares Bought at Last Week's Levels — Bears Are Cautious — Steel Down 2 Points.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Share prices drifted lower in extremely dull trading in today's stock market, as profits were taken on stock bought at last week's low levels.
Buying orders were limited, and bears were cautious.
Closing quotations were slightly above the day's lowest in most instances. U. S. Steel closed off two points having been depressed nearly three. Other shares closing 2 to 4 points lower included American Can, American Telephone, Public Service of New Jersey, American Water Works, General Electric and New York Central.
Westinghouse and Eastman lost about four points. Gillette shot up seven and closed with a net gain of five. Warner Bros. gained three and Consolidated two points. The closing tone was heavy. Total sales aggregated 1,750,000 shares.
Loans Down $153,000,000.
Loans to brokers and dealers
held by New York Federal Reserve
member banks for the week ending Oct. 15 were announced by the Federal Reserve Board as $2,752,- 000,000, representing a decrease of $12,000,000 as compared with the preceding week.

The speculative markets generally were under pressure. Wheat lost 1 1/2 cents a bushel. Corn lost about 2 cents. Cotton declined moderately. Foreign exchanges, however, were firm. Sterling cables rose 3-32 to $4.85 31-32. Even the pound rallied.
The day's news included dividend announcements by McCord Radiator and Rud Manufacturing. The latter had been anticipated. U. S. Realty announced its quarterly dividend from $1.25 to 75 cents.
Pressure against General Motors
for a time during the morning was a little unsettling, but extensive selling caused a decline of only 1 1/4 points and the stock then recovered somewhat. It was said in brokerage circles that the selling merely represented the liquidation
of a large speculative account.
Most of the day's selling was regarded as profit taking on stock bought at last week's lower levels.
Gillette Is Strong.
Strength of Gillette reflected an-

Consolidated Film moved upward following announcement of the closing of a five-year contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for the processing of film. There was a gain in Warner Bros. The advance of the latter, however, lacked vigor for traders are awaiting with interest the annual report covering the fiscal year ended Aug. 31.
W. W. Dodge Corp.'s report of building contracts let east of the Rockies during the first 10 days of the month was one of the brightest items in the day's news, showing a sharp reversal of the trend of a year ago. The daily average of contracts let was nearly 19 per cent above September but 11 1/2 per cent under a year ago. Production of electricity for the week ended Oct.
15 was reported as half of 1 per cent above the preceding week and under the like period of 1929.
All money was a little more demand. Although the official rate was maintained at 2 per cent, advances were made in the outside market at 1 1/2.

Here Are Some of the Reasons Why the U. H. F. Cushioned Inner-Spring Mattress Is the Best

It is made on a new and exclusive principle. The innermost unit is the spring unit.
The springs are shaped like an hour-glass—that is, large at the top and bottom and small at the center, so that any depression is supported by at least three turns of the coil of every spring rather than the top coil. The weight is thus distributed over every fraction of an inch of the top surface. The springs are tied together in a way that makes it impossible for them to ever break loose or change position. The spring unit is covered with an exclusive cushion. No spring can ever break through this cushion. It has a heavy fabric bottom and a muslin top, between which there is a thick layer of carded cotton with criss-cross fiber. The cushion is quilted at four-inch intervals. Over the cushion are thick layers of long white staple cotton fiber —an exclusive feature. The outside covering, also exclusive, is a heavy, closely woven fabric of beautiful design. Sides are reinforced and have four rows of stitching.
Hand-rolled edges are topped with corded silk braid. Two silk braid handles on each side make turning easy. There are three ventilators on each side and two on each end. The whole mattress comes sealed in a carton that is not opened until it reaches your home.

The U. H. F. Emblem on the bed or bedding you select means:—

- first: That the quality of every item you purchase is everything that is claimed for it. It will live up to every sales point.
- second: That the price asked is absolutely fair. It is the right price to pay for the quality. Any more would mean exorbitant profit—any less would mean shoddy merchandise or service.
- third: That whatever you purchase bearing this emblem will give you the service you have a right to expect. One and all, we absolutely guarantee it.

NEW ATTACK ON WILBUR
 Criticized for Heading University and Power Board at Same Time.
 By the Associated Press.
 WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Secretary of Interior Wilbur's chairmanship of the Federal Power Commission while he remains president of Leland Stanford University was criticized today by Mercer G. Johnston, director of the People's Legislative Service.

Johnston asserted Leland Stanford has about $7,000,000 invested in public utility bonds, many of them issued by companies that have been or are now seeking grand favors from the Power Commission. Under an act of the last Congress the commission is to be reorganized, five members appointed by the President replacing the Secretaries of Interior, War and Agriculture who now constitute the membership.

MACHADO MAKES PLEA FOR CUBAN SUGAR PLAN
 Urges Growers to Co-operate in Scheme Worked Out With Americans.

HAVANA, Oct. 15.—In a proclamation to the sugar growers of Cuba, President Machado asks for full co-operation with the plan recently submitted by Thomas L. Chadbourne, chairman of the Cuban-American sugar committee.

The plan provides for the disposition of an estimated sugar surplus of 1,500,000 tons which will be carried over into next season. It calls for the retirement from the market of this carry-over for five years, and the issuance of Government bonds to cover purchase. The plan previously had received the private sanction of the President.

Stating that the present situation in sugar was "acute" and that "drastic action" was necessary, the executive declared his faith in the "patriotism of producers and the good will of foreign interests" to make the segregation of the carry-over possible.

The Cuban-American committee consists of Walter S. Bartlett, William C. Douglas, Charles Hayden, Jacinto Pedros, Ricardo Cervera Falla, Jose M. Gomezmena, Jose M. Lopez Ona and John R. Simpson, with Chadbourne as chairman. It was organized to supervise consummation of the plan, and has received the official approval of the President.

Will Seek New Uses.
 This committee will seek to dispose of the segregated sugar "in an orderly manner" during the next five years. New markets and new uses for sugar will be sought during this time.

Concerning the financing of the plan, President Machado's proclamation said:
 "In payment for the sugar contributed by present owners, the latter shall receive bonds which shall be issued by this Government at the rate of $4 per bag, f. o. b."

"The bonds shall be guaranteed by the good faith of the Government and secured by the sugar delivered as well as by a tax to be put upon future crops."

"Besides receiving the bonds there shall be delivered to those participating a certificate giving them a share in what shall remain of the final sale price after all expenses involved in the plan, together with the interest to be paid on the bonds shall have been deducted."

How Bonds Will Be Handled.
 The President said that producers who contribute more than their quota of sugar to be segregated shall have the privilege of having their quota readjusted with sugar of the 1930-31 crop from those producers who have not contributed their share.

To sell the bonds at an advantageous price, the President set forth that the Government may order the bonds to be deposited in a bank of international repute, which shall hold them as fiduciary for a period of not exceeding one year.

During this period, if financial conditions permit, part or all of the bonds shall be placed on the market. Sugar producers, in this event, shall receive deposit receipts which will entitle them at the end of the year to a pro-rated cash return from the funds received through the sale of the bonds.

ACCIDENT VERDICT IN SECOND CASE OF HIKERS HIT BY AUTO
 County Coroner's Jury Investigates Death of Student Run Down on Olive Road.

A Coroner's verdict of accident was returned at Overland today in the death of Earling Telgen, 22, a student at Concordia Seminary, who was fatally injured Saturday night with Miss Goldie Radke, 25, 4247 West Pine boulevard, when they were struck by an automobile on Olive boulevard, in St. Louis County.

A similar verdict was returned Tuesday at the inquest in the city into Miss Radke's death, which occurred at St. Luke's Hospital. Telgen died Sunday at St. Mary's Hospital, necessitating an inquest in the county.

Dr. Leo P. Fitzgerald, Health Commissioner of University City, testified that he examined Phillip H. Gadsden, a contractor, of 7410 Hazel avenue, Maplewood, driver of the machine, following the accident and found that Gadsden had been drinking, but was not intoxicated.

Several Concordia students, members of a hiking party with which Telgen and Miss Radke were returning to the city, testified that the pair were walking on the south side of the road, opposite the other members of the party. The witnesses estimated the speed of Gadsden's machine at about 40 miles an hour, but said the car was on the highway when it struck Miss Radke and Telgen. Gadsden did not testify.

Ernest Malsch, filling station attendant at 1000 Bond avenue, East St. Louis, was forced to open his safe last night by an armed man who took $10. The robber compelled Malsch to walk with him several blocks then told him to run.

WHY do you suppose our outstanding hospitals, staffed by world-famous surgeons, make it a point to specify Kotex? There's more than one reason!

New Discovery Revolutionizes Washing of Fine Fabrics

Ethel Barrymore, Anne Morgan, Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank on distinguished Committee of 17 which sees new bead soap out-perform chips and flakes

A TINY bead of soap no larger than a pinhead, yet it holds the secret of 20% longer wear for silk stockings! Science proved this recently, at a meeting at the Ritz Hotel, New York, to the entire satisfaction of the Committee of Seventeen, a group of distinguished women who were asked to sit as a jury, to give "the woman's viewpoint" on this revolutionary new soap that promises to upset utterly all previous conceptions of how silks should be washed.

Reveal mistakes women make in washing silks

Social leaders, home economics consultants, the wife of a distinguished cabinet member, eminent university authorities—women representative of every type of American femininity—the committee watched authorities test the flake and chip soaps used by women for washing silks. They heard chemists tell how modern washbowl laundering of silks demands an entirely different kind of soap, one that dissolves instantly... works in water as cool as 85 degrees F. and rinses away completely. Could soap really be improved? Could the ideal soap for silks be made?

Chemist writes new chapter in soap history

Science said "yes," and before the skeptical eyes of 17 women tested a revolutionary new soap that performed miracles never witnessed before. It dissolved 30 times faster than flakes, cleansed in water 20 degrees cooler than required by any existing soap, and rinsed away like magic.

Distinguished committee approve new soap discovery

"The most amazing... the most perfect soap for silks I have ever seen," was the tribute of Miss Lillian Edgerton, consulting textile authority, "and I have tested soaps on over 6,000 different fabrics!"

Dr. Ellen B. McGowan, noted Columbia University expert, told of her tests with the new soap and how the olive oil base keeps silk threads soft and elastic and helps protect stockings against runs.

So revolutionary was the new soap... so perfectly did it fill requirements no soap has ever been able to meet... that the Committee of Seventeen went on record as unanimously approving the new soap as ideal for washing silks and fine fabrics.

"The name of the new soap, 'Palmolive Beads,' reveals the secret of why this new soap gives such vastly better results," said chemists who had helped create this discovery.

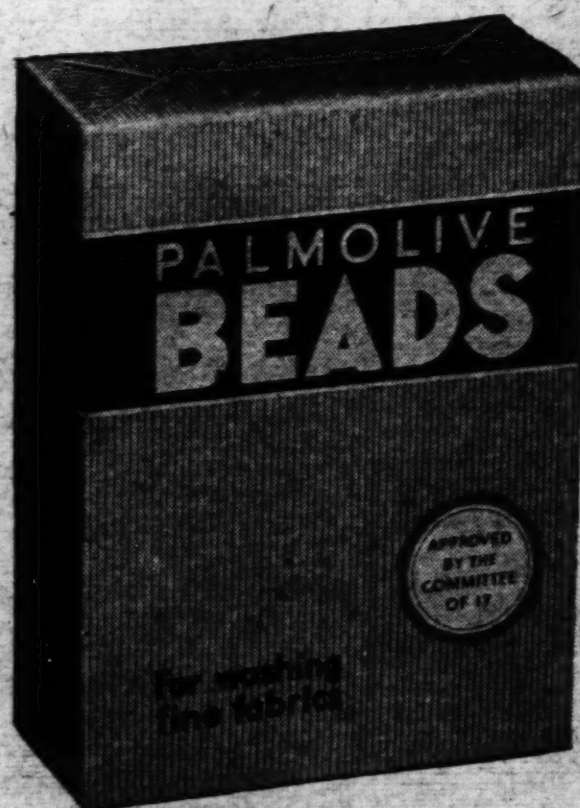

Silk manufacturers, leading stores, designers of smart women's wear came to the makers of Palmolive Soap—told them that modern hasty washbowl laundering was working havoc with beautiful fabrics—and asked them to create a soap as gentle and protective for fine fabrics as Palmolive for lovely complexions.

And so Palmolive Beads were made. The first soap for the silks ever made in the form of tiny, hollow, instant-dissolving "beads." The only fine fabric soap ever to be made of olive and palm oils... oils hitherto reserved exclusively for complexion soaps.

Palmolive Beads are for sale everywhere at 10 cents the dozen—no more than you pay for ordinary flakes and chips. Get a box at your dealer's today.

Members of the Committee of 17 compare silks washed with instant dissolving "beads," with those washed with slow dissolving flakes. The microscope reveals that slow-dissolving soaps often fail to rinse away completely, causing soap damage. Mrs. James J. Davis (at microscope), Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt, Miss Edgerton and Miss Pollard.

Surely, there can be no greater authority on the right soap for silks than the silk manufacturers themselves. They analyzed Palmolive Beads in their own laboratories. They tested them again and again in washing tests of the silks which they manufacture. And now all of them recommended Palmolive Beads for safe washing of silks.

SAYS MRS. HILL, MISSES VAN WIE, HICKS AND COLLETT IN SEMI-FINALS

YOUNG EASTERN GIRL STARS IN NATIONAL GOLF TOURNAMENT

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 15.—Miss Van Wie, a young girl from Chicago, won a place in the semifinals of the national amateur golf championship when she defeated Mrs. Roy Green of Culver City, Cal., 7 and 5, here today.

The Chicago miss shot below-par for the first nine holes to match the turn five up. She had 11 one under par, to 44 for her opponent. Miss Van Wie won the first four holes to give her a commanding lead, which she never relinquished.

Miss Helen Hicks, 19-year-old Woodrow, N. Y., girl, moved into the semifinals by defeating Mrs. Louis Pressler, runner-up for the title last year, 2 and 1. It was by far the hardest shot of the quarter finals, with the match all square at the turn.

Shooting par-shattering golf for the first nine and rallying on the last hole, Miss Collett played a steady hand of golf, and had besides three birdies, an eagle on the 12th and eighth. Miss Wattle had a collection of six birdies.

BURROUGHS ELEVEN IS CRIPPLED FOR BATTLE WITH CHAMINADE TEAM

A greatly improved Chaminaide football team plays its third game of the season tomorrow afternoon when it meets John Burroughs at 2:30 o'clock on the latter field. When the two meet it will be a case of brute strength and speed, as Burroughs averaged about 120 pounds to 150 for Chaminaide. Coach Gieger's boys are practicing an aerial offensive and have several smooth-working end-run plays.

John Burroughs is crippled for the game. Donnell, regular fullback and one of the best men on the team, broke his leg last week and will be out for the rest of the season, most likely. Capt. Boyd is not and will not be ready for the conflict. He left, left end, is also in the same condition.

PORTLAW IS WINNER OF MIDDLE PARK STAKES FOR TWO YEAR OLDS

By the Associated Press.
NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 15.—Portlaw, owned by Sir Abe Baker, won the famous Middle Park Stakes by three lengths today from the French-bred juvenile Goyescas, who won the Derby last year.

The betting against Goyescas was two to one and Homer nine to one. Portlaw started favorite at even money.

GEORGE LOTT ENTERS TENNIS SEMIFINALS

By the Associated Press.
WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, N. J., Oct. 15.—George M. Lott, Chicago, member of the Davis Cup team, entered the semifinals of the Greenbrier Autumn Tennis Tournament yesterday. He advanced by defeating Alexander Rice, Baltimore, 6-1, 6-3, after having disposed of Edward Brooke, Philadelphia, 6-1, 6-1. Kelles earned the right to meet Lott by beating Ebert Howell, Philadelphia, 6-2, 7-5.

John Miller, New York, defeated Ross Morrow, Memphis, 6-2, and had defeated in a quarter final match, F. C. Baggis, New York, and Don Johnson, Cleveland, 6-1, 6-0, and H. B. Hawk, New York, 6-2, 6-0.

Don Johnson won by default from Emmet Pare, Dayton, O., in the round before the quarter final.

BOB MC COOLE WILL REPLACE STEPHAN IN GAME WITH BUTLER

On the practice field today, but the game field in the stadium proper, bright and fresh and springy, has been laid in several days.

Another sideline observer was George Garity, who has had few games as a center.

While Head Coach Walsh gives the game share of his attention to developing a working unit, his assistant, Joe Maxwell and Elmer Wayne hammer on detail.

About 12 players and coaches, including Maxwell and Wayne will take the trip to Indianapolis by special train, starting before noon tomorrow.

Middleweight King Trains Here for Bout With Cline

MICKEY WALKER, middleweight champion, who is to box "Tiger Johnny" Cline at the Coliseum Friday night. Walker is also matched to fight with Johnny Risko, Nov. 7, and will concede about 25 pounds in that contest.

MICKEY WALKER WILL WORK OUT AGAIN TODAY FOR CLINE BOUT

Mickey Walker, who has not appeared in St. Louis before, will be the attraction on Mike Malloy's card tomorrow night at the Coliseum, when the middleweight champion meets Johnny Cline of California, but the fact should not be entirely overlooked that there seems to be plenty of action wrapped up in the supporting bouts.

John Schwake, St. Louis heavyweight, has fighting tendencies that are well known in local boxing circles. Round John may look awkward up there in the ring but he punches hard and there is always plenty of action when he is in the ring. His opponent in an eight-round bout is Harvey Morrison of Chicago, who swings a mean glove himself, according to promoter Malloy. Their bout promises to be one of the high lights of the program.

Two six-round bouts are on the card, bringing together Matty Mathews of Kenosha, Wis., and Frank Powers, St. Louis, at 175 pounds, and Herbie Wilson, Danville, Ill., against Buddy Schiereth, St. Louis, at 155 pounds.

Little "Peewee" Terry, a willing fighter, takes on a clever boy named Frankie Almers of Gary, Ind., in one four-rounder, while Woodrow Wilson, another active little St. Louis fighter, weighing 120 pounds, tangles with Dave Barry of Springfield, Ill., also at four rounds.

Champion Walker will work out again this afternoon, beginning about 2 o'clock, at the National Gymnasium, where he pleased spectators in his first local training drill yesterday. Cline also will work out this afternoon.

KEARNS HAS ANOTHER BOUT IN LINE FOR BUSY MICKEY WALKER

By the Associated Press.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Oct. 15.—The Metropolitan Athletic Club announced that it had Friedman of Philadelphia and Frankie Wine of Barberton, O., middleweights, had been matched for a 10-round bout here Nov. 2, the winner to meet Mickey Walker, world's middleweight champion, here two weeks later.

STIRBLING WILL NOT MEET LOUGHRAN IN PHILADELPHIA, NOV. 3

By the Associated Press.
ROANOKE, Va., Oct. 15.—"Pa" Stripling, manager of W. L. "Young" Stripling, said here last night that it would be impossible for the fighter to consider meeting Tommy Loughran Nov. 3.

His statement was made after Pete Tyrell, promoter, announced in Philadelphia yesterday that he had Loughran's agreement to fight the Georgian in the Quaker city on that date.

"Pa" said his son was booked for three fights within the next 30 days, precluding the insertion of another date in the schedule.

How Come?

IN Chicago last Tuesday night a fighter was knocked out in a battle in the Chicago stadium. The knockout was followed by an injury to the defeated fighter's vertebrae. At hospital it was found necessary to operate on him for a case of acute appendicitis!

One of the features of every State commission is medical examination before a bout. How did it happen that this fighter was permitted to enter the ring at all? If he dies will not the commission be responsible for his death?

Medical examinations in some centers are the mere farces. In fact, it was in this city, some years ago, that Joe Jacobs, manager now of Max Schmeling, world champion, sent a fighter into the ring suffering from an inflamed appendix—Benny Valger. It is true that Benny fought and defeated Harry Kabakoff and was hustled to the operating table after the fight, recovering O. K.

But think of a fighter so far gone that he has to be kept in an ice pack until the hour of the fight being sent into the ring with the approval of a medical examiner?

Parents whose boys have taken up boxing would not feel happy to know that managers of fighters are so ignorant or so careless as to take chances with the lives of the boys through whose prowess they fatten their own pocketbooks without risking anything.

Headed Wrong

OUR semi-professional system of rewarding amateur boxers is now under the spotlight. It has come to view officially and everyone has known unofficially that contestants in amateur bouts being held in this city are being paid in cash in some cases and merchandise in others.

Amateurs are permitted by the State Commission to flourish here in the interest of private and club promotion on the condition that A. A. U. rules are observed. But according to testimony brought to the attention of this writer, the amateur rules have been violated in several respects and most of the "amateurs" of this district are under suspension by the A. A. U.

It is ground for suspension. If fighters accept money or any form of merchandise other than watches, medals and gymnasium equipment. "Certificates" calling for merchandise at downtown stores are the equivalent of cash if it has been ruled.

"Hair splitting" is the conventional reply to such charges. Perhaps. But the worst feature of cash prizes in their effect on the amateur's mind. His viewpoint becomes commercialized and professionalized at a time of life when a few ideals would be worth more than all the money he might earn in 10 years.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Miami Fight in Doubt.

ANOTHER Florida boom appears to have exploded. Madison Square Garden's attempt to promote important fights in Miami is in serious jeopardy, according to leakage in the intelligence department at New York. The Garden contracted to put on a major fight at Miami, each February for five years; but this year there are no major fights among the heavies. They are all painfully minor.

Young Stripling and somebody were supposed to have been featured next February. But Campolo having gone back to the Pampas and Sharkey having retired to Back Bay and coupon clipping, there seems no one to promote as an opponent for Stripling. Campolo is still dropped with the New York Commission and thus he is barred from meeting Stripling as a Miami feature.

There remains Max Schmeling, the "roust" champion, who probably would not consider a fight in Florida, preferring the big shot at the ball park next June.

It is known that Stripling does not want to meet Sharkey again, even the repetition of that awful affair of 1928 is most unlikely. At this juncture one wonders just where the Florida promotion is headed? It has an expensive plant, built last year for major battles and christened with one of the worst flascos in pugilistic history.

Interest on the investment demands a fight. But where to find one that will not end in loss of money and prestige? If you have an answer advise Frank Bruen, Madison Square Garden, N. Y.

What a Shrinkage!

YALE and Princeton beaten by minor schools on the same day! Shades of Hefelfinger and Snake Ames! What a collapse of greatness! Time was when it was virtually impossible for an outside eleven to defeat any of the "Big Three" teams. To score against them was considered something to boast about. Now—well, it's worth only a small headline when a defeat is registered for Harvard, Yale or Princeton.

The spread of professional coaching and the vast numbers of players developed in the minor schools of the country annually have rendered a monopoly by any one section or group of schools impossible.

Many old grads believe that the downfall of the Big Three began with the introduction of the new rules and the forward pass; but the real cause undoubtedly was due to the number and quality of the coaches available. When graduate coaching alone was available, the Big Three virtually had a coaching monopoly.

No longer can one system be devised to dominate another exclusively. Nor is physical manhood on the whole better in one section than another. There is no reason why New England should have better football teams than California. Section-

My 50 Years in Baseball

1914 Athletics, Off to Big Lead, Forced to Limit to Win Pennant and Enter Fifth World Series.

NOT many changes were made in the Athletics of 1914 with the exception that Bob Shawkey, last year manager of the Yankees, and Rube Bressler, a left-hander, joined the pitching staff.

We started off with a mighty flourish and headed for the pennant early in the season. In the first half of the race we were 15 to 17 games ahead.

Everything pointed to us winning the championship without ever being challenged at any stage of the fight, when suddenly a sinister menace to major league baseball loomed.

During the previous winter the Federal League, an outlaw circuit, had been quietly organized. At first it gained little headway and not much attention was paid to it. Later they interested some multi-millionaires in their venture and soon had the financial backing to go ahead and expand. They had big ideas for 1915, so around mid-season in 1914 they started a drive against American and National League players for delivery the next spring.

As the Athletics held the highest honors in baseball and had a cast which included some of the most desirable players in the nation, the opposition naturally did not neglect our club.

All Players Approached.

FEDERAL LEAGUE scouts popped on major league teams from all sides. These agents were all former major leaguers and often personal friends of the men they sought. By the middle of July all of our players had been approached and astonishing salary lures were thrown out to them. This had an immediate effect on the players and caused decided unrest in baseball. Instead of playing their normal game and hustling to get their team ahead, the men spent more time on and off the field haranguing about the salaries offered to them.

It also caused a rift among the players. The first thing I found out was that there was a general disension on our team. One faction urged sticking to organized baseball while the other was just as

Connie Mack Tells Of Numerous Raids Of Federal League

IN today's installment on his 50 years in baseball, Connie Mack, manager of the world champion Athletics, tells how the fabulous offers made by the Federal League agents almost wrecked this club before the 1914 world series with the Braves.

He declares that the players entered the games against Boston thinking of everything except baseball.

He declared that the players entered the games against Boston thinking of everything except baseball.

Enter Fifth World Series.

THE players responded with enough spirit at least to get them in another world series, but the old dash and snap was not there. The Red Sox came fast in the closing weeks and seemed to be the only club with contented ball players. The Athletics just made the grade and nothing else.

The Athletics started their fifth world series with a cloud over them. Like the man in Goldsmith's poem, they were remote, unfriendly, melancholy, slow.

The players were tight-lipped and there didn't seem the slightest desire among them to study the ways of the Braves, their opponents, in the classic.

Heretofore after we clinched the pennant, all one would hear around the ball club was questions about the ability of players on the National League pennant winner they were to meet. For all the advance talk the Athletics had concerning the Braves one would never imagine they were going to meet them for the highest title in baseball.

As we all know, the Braves beat the Athletics four straight games to the utter surprise of fans in general, who had not the slightest conception of the conditions prevailing on our team.

It was a shock to me that so many of our players were in a receptive mood to talk business and at once neglect their playing to do to the best advantage with optimism.

Parting After Close of Campaign Was Chilling and Mournful — Mack Loses Confidence in Players.

At the end of the decade when I reviewed the season and saw how easy it was for us to win in the first half when all the players were a happy family and with an unconquerable ambition to win. It made me sick to feel that Federal League scouts with theatrical salary offers could change all of this. It was a shock to me that so many of our players were in a receptive mood to talk business and at once neglect their playing to do to the best advantage with optimism.

I became absolutely disgusted with conditions. We had always treated our players liberally and paid them the biggest salaries possible. Then to see them turn against the club and willingly negotiate with a new organization caused me for a time to lose all confidence in players.

This may have been a mistake on my part. Perhaps I should have used more temperate methods, but remember, I had discovered, coached and developed the majority of our players and regarded them as sons.

I was completely disillusioned and wondered what my next step would be.

In previous years at the end of the season or a world series, there was always hearty partings between player and manager. It was pleasant to shake hands with a valuable player and wish him an enjoyable rest and express the hope that he would be back the next spring better than ever.

No compliments were exchanged at the end of the world series in 1914. It was a most chilling and mournful parting.

2 ST. CHARLES STARS TO MISS COUNTY CONTEST

One of the most decisive County League football contests will be played Friday night when University City and St. Charles, co-champions of last year, will meet at Francis Field.

The game is important in that it will match the strength of the two title contenders. The scoring power of the two teams cannot be compared, because the schedules thus far have not interlocked.

St. Charles will be playing in its first league encounter, while University City will be meeting its second conference opponent. In three practice tilts, St. Charles has scored two victories, defeating the Principia Academy A team, 15-12, and Alton High, 6-0. In the third, St. Charles lost to Central High, 19-0. University City in its single league game, overwhelmed Rite-nour, 22-0.

Two of St. Charles' most valuable players, Capt. Kenneth Bacon, star halfback, and Herman Thoeke, 160-pound tackle, will be absent from the lineup because of injuries. Coach Duesinger says that Capt. William Scholle, who has been nursing a bad ankle, will probably be able to start, but he is doubtful about his ability to play the entire game. Bacon, with a rib injury, and Thoeke, with a ruptured blood vessel in the left leg, have been able to report for practice only the last two days.

With eight letter men to start the season, St. Charles had a strong backfield and line personnel, but under the handicap of a crippled left will be at a disadvantage against Coach Muth's powerful battery of backfield players.

U. City's backfield is one of the fastest in the county. The leader is Feldman, all-county man of last year, who is again to be reckoned with when it comes to picking the all-star team. Vescovo or Johnson, "C" outfit, 12 to 8, Callahan having will play left half, with McClure

The lines are about equal, having the same weight average, but St. Charles has a trifle more experience.

The U. City sophomore team and Clayton's second team will engage in a preliminary game.

Western "B" and "C" Win

Western Military Academy's "B" football team yesterday defeated Granite City's "B" team, 23 to 6. Granite City touched down, made by Powers after he had intercepted a forward pass on his own 20-yard line, marked the first time the Western team has been scored against in two seasons. The Cadet "C" team also beat Granite City's "C" outfit, 13 to 8, Callahan having a big part in the victory.

GARROWAY AND SON VICTORS IN GOLF TOURNEY

The annual father and son golf tournament conducted at Westwood Country Club yesterday afternoon was won by David C. Garroway and his son, Dick, of Algonquin, with a gross score of 81. Low net honors went to Roger Lord and his son, Roddy, also of Algonquin, with 67. Lord and his son had a handicap of 20.

Although only 27 twosomes paired off yesterday, the tournament is growing in size and prizes were so awarded that no one pair shared in two divisions. Lord and his son were tied with C. W. and Don Bender, club members, for second place in low gross, but the Lords won only the low net cup.

The Algonquin crowd swept the major classes, as C. A. Bender and his son, Don, took second place in the low gross class with an 83. There were eight pairs of members from Algonquin.

The third place prizes were won by members from Westwood Country Club, as Louis Rosen and his son, Earl, took third place in the low gross, and Sidney Salamon Sr. and Jr. drew for the last place in the low net. Ben Goodwin and his son of Algonquin and J. A. and Lyle Shontz of Woodlawn tied Salamon and his son, but the latter couple was successful in the draw-ings for the prize.

Second place in the low net went to C. O. and Bruce Shephard of Woodlawn who had a score of 91 with an 18 handicap.

The results:

Eddie Shea Loses In Peoria Bout

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 15.—Chalk up another black mark against the three-way fight decisions rendered under the Illinois Boxing Commission, for the judges and referee rendered another unpopular decision here last night when Allen Whitlow of Phoenix, Ariz., was presented with a 10-round decision over Eddie Shea, Chicago.

Shea, the aggressor, hit more solid punches and scored tremendously in the last five rounds. Whitlow had a slight edge in the opening stanzas.

The battle was a thriller from start to finish and had the Peoria ring fans in a constant uproar and on their feet for 40 minutes.

Whitlow is a game little scrapper and one who can take punishment. Shea's terrific rights and lefts didn't seem to faze him. He landed several hard ones on Shea, but they lacked the steam to do any serious damage.

Shea left the fight as fresh as a daisy, while Whitlow's face was badly puffed and disfigured from the slashing right-hand jabs.

Dr. T. D. Ellis Addresses Opening of 83d M. E. South Conference.

Businesslike methods in the raising and handling of church funds were urged by Dr. T. D. Ellis, church extension secretary, in an address at the opening of the eighty-third session of the St. Louis Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, yesterday.

Dr. Ellis discussed the Southern Methodist method of loaning money to congregations to build churches and urged that these transactions be regarded by all parties in the light of business.

Approximately 175 ministers and lay delegates were present when the conference was called to order by Bishop A. Frank Smith at University Methodist Church, 6901 Washington boulevard. ## CIRCUIT ATTORNEY CRITICISED FOR REMARKS ON DRY LAW

A formal statement protesting against the recent assertion by Circuit Attorney Franklin Miller that prohibition had contributed toward an increase in crime was issued yesterday by Methodist Episcopal churches of the East St. Louis District, meeting at St. Paul's Methodist Church, Forty-second street and Caseyville avenue.

"Much propaganda is being disseminated calculated to bring the public to believe prohibition is the cause of crime and tending to place young people in disrepute," the statement read. Quoting Miller's remarks, the statement continued: "We desire to express our protest against such propaganda, whose conclusion we believe to be far fetched and at the same time unfair and false."

EMPLOYMENT GAINS IN MISSOURI INDUSTRY

Surplus in Some Workers Here in September, U. S. Reports.

A general improvement in industrial employment in Missouri during September, with sharp gains in flour milling, canning establishments, electrical supplies, drugs and chemicals, and leather goods, is noted in the monthly report of the United States Department of Labor.

In St. Louis, increased employment was noted particularly in boots and shoes, drugs and chemicals, electrical supplies and wholesale groceries, with marked seasonal gains in flour milling, meat packing, canning, candy and confectionery and wholesale clothing. There was a surplus in the ready supply of carpenters, painters, bricklayers, lathers, plumbers, clerks and factory workers.

Highway construction and railroad maintenance were expected to absorb a considerable volume of unskilled labor while it was anticipated that corn husking in the state would call for many additional workers in October.

TEETH WHITEN 3 shades in 3 days when you remove Bacterial-Mouth

DULL teeth that are ugly, yellow and decayed, and receding gums are enemies of beauty, health and happiness. They are tell-tale signs of a condition offensive to all of us—and incurable. Germs sweep into the mouth with every breath and attack teeth and gums. They cause the condition known as Bacterial-Mouth. But KOLYNOS quickly conquers this foe by killing the germs that cause it. The result is astonishing.

Use the KOLYNOS Dry-Brush Technique for 3 days—a half-inch of KOLYNOS on a dry brush, morning and night. Then look at your teeth—fully 3 shades whiter.

In 10 days the improvement will be so marked you will never again say that white teeth are a gift received only by a fortunate few.

Dentists have long advocated the Dry-Brush Technique as the one way to use a dental cream full strength and keep brush bristles stiff enough to clean every tooth surface and massage gums properly. KOLYNOS permits this approved technique.

This highly concentrated, double-strength dental cream is unique in action. It multiplies 25 times when it enters the mouth—thus a half-inch of KOLYNOS is equal in effectiveness to 12 inches of the ordinary toothpaste. It becomes a surging, antiseptic FOAM that makes wetting the toothbrush unnecessary.

You can feel KOLYNOS work. It foams into every pit, fissure and crevice. Germs that cause Bacterial-Mouth and lead to stain, decay and gum diseases are quickly killed. They vanish and the entire mouth is purified. KOLYNOS kills 190 million germs in 15 seconds, 424 million in 60 seconds.

This amazing KOLYNOS FOAM removes food particles that ferment and cause decay... neutralizes acids... washes away tartar and the unsightly mucoid coating that clouds teeth.

Easily and quickly, it cleans and polishes teeth down to the naked white enamel—without injury. And for 3 hours after each brushing this cleansing, purifying process continues.

So long as you use the KOLYNOS Dry-Brush Technique teeth will remain gleaming white and sound, gums will be firm and healthy.

Look for Results in 3 Days

If you want whiter, sounder teeth and firm, pink gums start using KOLYNOS—a half-inch on a dry brush, morning and night. Within 3 days teeth will look whiter—fully 3 shades. Gums will look and feel better. Your mouth will tingle with a clean, sweet taste. Buy a tube of KOLYNOS from any druggist.

For Annoying Coughs That Call For Extra-Help

Creomulsion is made for coughs from colds that worry you. For coughs where you should not risk a less effective help.

But careful people use it for coughs which seem milder—use it to do the utmost and be safe. For nobody knows where a cough may lead.

Creomulsion combines seven major helps in one. Some coughs yield best to one help, some to another. Doctors often differ on the best help, for coughs are not alike. So here we combine all the best—to be sure.

needed—pine tar, wild cherry, menthol, ipecac and others. Nobody can tell to which help your cough will soonest yield. So experts have combined in Creomulsion all best helps in one. No narcotic, nothing harmful to a child, but a seven-way help to deal with all conditions.

The price is $1.25—a little higher than a lesser help. But your druggist guarantees it. Your money is returned if it fails to bring the quick, complete help you desire. Don't you think it worth that little extra to be sure that you are doing the utmost for a cough?

THE WAY OF A WOMAN

By Marguerite M. Marshall

THE INDEPENDENT AMERICAN WOMAN.

DOES any American man with an intelligent modern mind seriously question the American woman's independence? We doubt it. Indeed his best efforts, at present, seem to be concentrated on preserving his own independence, rather than in protesting against hers, which he has come to take for granted—as why should he not?

His tolerant and sensible attitude makes even more amusing and amazing the candid confession, in the Outlook, of that clever young English writer, Alec Waugh, who allows that the independence of the American woman, particularly of the American wife, scares him to death.

In England, he declares, a man knows that a girl, more than anything else, wants to marry him and merely works because she hasn't yet had the luck to lead to the altar a noble British male.

In the United States, on the other hand—plaintively points out Mr. Waugh—a girl wants a job so that she can run her own life, with men and marriage merely an incident therein; she is independent of men and Englishmen don't like the idea at all.

"In an English office," he goes into detail, "the English girl is only rarely interested in her work. In 99 cases out of 100 work for her is a marking time or an excuse for liberty of action that otherwise she could not obtain. She regards whatever job she holds as a method of making pass agreeably the years before her marriage. She has no intention of working after she has married."

That is not, as far as I see it, the American girl's attitude. She sets out to arrange her life as a man set out to arrange his life, so that she can stand four square upon her feet; so that she can make marriage in the same way that a man takes it, in her stride.

"The American woman," has learned the art of combining in one career what was supposed 50 years ago to be the separate functions of a man and a woman. It is this that makes her independent and independence in a woman is a thing that the Englishman finds hard to recognize."

Naturally, for Mr. Waugh goes on to point out, "the Englishman does not believe that his wife is responsible for herself, but that he is responsible for her. By law he is responsible for debts and actions. The law in England based on the assumption that woman is incapable of self-management and needs protection. And a man, though he may grumble, does not object. It gives him a pleasant feeling of importance and security."

"He knows that his wife could not manage without him. He believes that the only thing that will get her away from him is some other man. Nothing is more unlikely than that a woman should say one fine morning, 'I'm bored with this. We're going to separate.' In England she is bound by her economic dependence."

"An English wife does not leave her husband except with another man until life in her home has been made absolutely intolerable for her. There would be nowhere

LAURA La PLANTE Visits Scenes of Early Youth

Blond Movie Star Comes Back to St. Louis Where She Went to School as a Child—Tells How She Got Into the Pictures in California.

By MARGUERITE MARTYN

A close-up of Miss La Plante.

THE successful movie star revisiting the scenes of her early youth, finding some of them "pretty awful," but enjoying old home week just the same, is Laura La Plante, in St. Louis for a few days. Born 25 years ago over a shoe store looking out on the old French Market, living afterward at 313 Rutgers street, attending the Madison school until the family moved to Duke avenue, near Morganford road, where she attended the Oak Hill school—her mother wanted her to see these old haunts, so they took a taxi and made the grand tour.

Mrs. La Plante grew up on a farm in the neighborhood of Festus. She was one of a large family, many of whom still reside around there, also a large connection of La Plantes live around Flat River. So two more days were put in driving from place to place visiting the country cousins, aunts and uncles. Mother and daughter are now being entertained by a sister-in-law and aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Turk, who owns a flower shop, and this was the scene of our interview. During that brief session no less than four other hitherto unknown persons came in to establish kinship with the celebrity.

GRANDMA'S BOOK FOR BABY LINDY

CHARLES Augustus Lindbergh Jr., will not start his education with the stereotyped "cat" and "rat."

Nor will the offspring of the flying Lindberghs be launched into the alphabet on such words as fuselage or wing spread.

Charles Augustus, when he takes a pink thumb out of his mouth, will utter the one word "pig." For "The Painted Pig" is the title of the first child's book which he will receive.

It was written by his grandmother, Elizabeth Morrow, who stopped long enough from campaigning for her husband, Dwight Morrow, for United States Senator from New Jersey, to jot down some funny tales she picked up in Mexico while Mr. Morrow was Ambassador there.

It is not only the first book to be presented Baby Lindbergh. It is also to be the first picture book for children to come from Mexico. The first sentence Baby Lindbergh will trace with his forefinger when he gets old enough to read will be:

"He was painted yellow with pink roses on his back and a tiny rosebud on his tail."

The story tells of the search of pigs and Pedro, two little Mexican children, for a painted pig bank. The pictures are unusual, done in brilliant colors and typical of Mexico.

Mrs. Morrow got the idea of her book from the wonderful collection of toys owned by Count Rene d'Harcourt in Mexico City. The count made some colored pictures of the toys and Mrs. Morrow wrote her story round them.

Pita and Pedro are real children. They live in Cuernavaca where the Mowrows have a little week-end adobe house.

"It's a trip mother and I have been planning for years," said Miss La Plante, "and it has been a very busy week," she added with emphasis.

"That explains why I haven't been able to catch up with you," said L. "It began to look as if you were evading us."

"And I suppose you never heard of an actress evading publicity," she retorted neatly. "Now that you have found me, what can I talk to you about," she said, showing the dimple and the even row of pearly teeth we know so well in the pictures.

There didn't seem to be any momentous question sailing for her learned opinion this morning, so I asked that she sketch her career. She settled back reposefully and though, as I've intimated, there were numerous interruptions, she stuck to her subject, returning each time to the word at which she had left off. That in itself an unusual quality of charm in a woman, there were other indications of calm self-possession and level headedness.

SHE wears glasses—which will probably be a shock to her fans. She'll rimmed spectacles, frame the wide blue eyes. "No, indeed I am not wearing them as a disguise," she protested. "I wear them because I can see so much more and so much better with them than without them. I've worn them since I was 12 years old and a great deal more vain than I am now."

Also the fair hair by which she is so distinguished on the screen was completely concealed under a tight fitting turban of the knitted variety. And she was wearing one scene. Well it so happened that I got two weeks' work at 15 a day. I was only 14 years old and $35 a week isn't bad pay for a kid anywhere. Anyway, it looked like easy money and was enough to put the movie bee in my bonnet.

"I left St. Louis 17 years ago, just before my ninth birthday," she related. "Mother was getting a divorce and she wanted my sister, Violet, and me—I or me, which is right—away from it all, so we were shipped out to Los Angeles with an aunt who had gone there to live. Mother followed some time later and took us to San Diego. We lived there until I was in the second year of high school. Mother was having quite a hard time making ends meet, working to support all three of us, so it was always a relief to her when my aunt would take us off her hands during vacations. On one of these visits the people next door turned out to be connected with the pictures. Violet and I decided it would be a swell idea if they could get us jobs on the picture lots and we could earn a little money to help mother. It wasn't a very hard matter for our neighbor to have screen tests made of us. He did, but there's no record of it. I shouldn't have said that. Christy Brothers sent for me. They could use me as an extra in her to be a stage child. They have a hectic life. I'd want a child of mine to have a real education before she went into the movies, no matter how much beauty or talent or ability she might have."

She and her sister had always been artistically inclined. Had early resolved to become musicians. It is the financial returns that have made picture acting attractive, she frankly said. And she wants more and more money. She and her husband, William Selzer, director for First National company, plan to build a home, but all the time the plans grow bigger, more ambitious, more expensive and they defer the building until a still more radiant day.

"Both our mothers have lovely little homes in Hollywood and Beverly, but we continue to live in an apartment and build our castle in the air," she said.

"I see you're feeling the heat," Amazon told the children. "Well, after you leave me you will be a little heat for a while."

"It's because I don't mind the heat that I like it here. There are others who do object to it. That is the reason more do not come to live about me."

"May I tell them more about myself, Little Black Clock?"

DAILY STORY FOR CHILDREN

By Mary Graham Bonner

The Amazon River.

"RIGHT across South America John and Peggy traveled with the Little Black Clock. At times they were almost frightened for the forests were so heavy, the jungles so thick."

And now they stopped by a great and mighty river. As they stopped they heard a voice say:

"Take a look at me. I'm the Amazon River. I'm the largest river in the world. Mississippi may be the longest but I'm the largest."

"And if you'll take a trip along with me you'll see the wonderful heavy foliage that I have all about me and the great jungle."

"Shall we travel along with her?" the Little Black Clock whispered.

"Let's," said John.

The river was a very handsome one. She wore a beautiful gown of greenish color and it was decorated all over with heavy embroidery which looked very much like heavy, heavy vines.

After they had walked awhile, Amazon suggested that they might sit on some of her giant water lilies and have some food.

They did this and now the Little Black Clock produced some bananas.

"I see you're feeling the heat," Amazon told the children. "Well, after you leave me you will be a little heat for a while."

"It's because I don't mind the heat that I like it here. There are others who do object to it. That is the reason more do not come to live about me."

"May I tell them more about myself, Little Black Clock?"

"I wish you would," the Little Black Clock answered.

Why not give it the proper attention? You can get "Danderine" from any drug store for just a few cents.

Danderine is no experiment. It has proven its merit by years of use and popularity. It helps dissolve dandruff in a hurry. The scalp is cleansed, soothed and toned by the first application. Excess oil is removed from the hair; its own

BUSTLE LOOMS ON THE PARIS STYLE HORIZON

By DIANA MERWIN.

FIGURES speak loudly in autumn fashions.

Paris calls them silhouettes and devises three new forms, feminine and more or less divine in the Edwardian sense.

Each new silhouette takes the name of its creator.

To date there is no other way of designating the blouse and raised waist than as Patou.

The gathered skirt and raised waistline is Molyneux and Madame Chanel gives her name to the flat bustle back for evening, possible forerunner of worse to come in the way of arched posterior.

These bustle dresses hook up the back, placket and all.

The trinity of silhouettes represents what there is new in contours for autumn. All are more to be reckoned with in the future than mighty in the present.

Molyneux's raised waistline and sectional gathered skirt is a morning, afternoon and night style. It furnishes the outline for a major portion of the new Molyneux collection.

Jean Patou's blouse and raised front waistline is identified with formal afternoon and evening dresses.

Chanel's flat bustle back, snugly fitted over a boned corset, is distinctly an evening style associated as it is with waist deep décolletés and flared skirts with plenty of frill-frou in the form of tulle and layers of lace.

WORKERS DISCOVER QUICK METHOD TO OVERCOME FATIGUE

They Take a Moment to Eat or Drink Something Sweet

Salesmen who cover miles each day, and business folk who go at top speed at their desks and counters, know that mid-afternoon is the zero hour as far as energy is concerned.

Since rest and relaxation are out of the question at this busy time of the day, countless workers have found to their delight that a piece of candy, a cookie, ice cream, or a sweetened drink—even sugar dissolved in water—restores vigor almost immediately.

The reason for this is that the sugar content of these "snacks" supplies the system with quick nourishment without taxing the digestive system. When the body is thus nourished, fatigue is materially lessened.

Recent tests among workers have proved the value of this practice of eating something sweet in the zero hour. A well-known physician in Philadelphia often advises business men to drop in at a soda fountain at 4 o'clock and drink a flavored milk shake. Nervous exhaustion is overcome and the evening meal is eaten later with calm enjoyment.

The demand of the system for refined sugar should not be denied. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with refined sugar. The Sugar Institute.
